Communists Being Ousted In Indonesia

JAKARTA (UPI) — Indonesian Foreign Minister Dr. Subandrio was reported Friday on the verge of being ousted for his pro-Chinese sentiments.

Informed sources said Subandrio, an outspoken friend of Red China, was due for an extended "tour" abroad in what would amount to at least temporary exile.

China, meanwhile, Indonesia's firmest ally before the Communist-led attempt to unseat President-for-life Sukarno on Oct. 1, delivered its "strongest protest" yet to the Indonesian government for actions against its supporters since the coup failed.

A New China News Agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo said the Chinese had protested against rioters who stormed the Chinese Consulate in Medan Tuesday.

DEMANDS APOLOGY

(The broadcast said China demanded the Indonesian government apologize, formally return the Chinese flag and emblem that were carried away and punish those responsible.)

Friday's protest note was the latest in a series of Chinese denunciations of anti-Communist rioters in Indonesia.

Despite reports he was on the way out, Subandrio was very much in evidence Friday and still functioning as Sukarno's foreign minister.

Antara, the official news agency, quoted him as saying Indonesia had no territorial claims but "we should never forget the duty of history to crush Malaysia."

Radio Jakarta said the foreign minister's statement was issued following a change of command in the Borneo region.

Sukarno has insisted that the coup will result in no change in his campaign to crush neighboring Malaysia, which he considers an extension of British colonialism.

Evidence continued to mount meanwhile, against the Indonesian Communist party (PKI) for its role in the coup.

The anti-Communist army newspaper Angkatan Bersenjata accused the PKI of infiltrating and setting up a "hidden line of command" within the Indonesian army and civil service.

U.N. Assembly Wants Britain To Use Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly, over British objections, voted overwhelmingly Friday for a demand that Britain use military force if necessary to assure complete political freedom in Rhodesia.

By 82-9, with 18 abstentions, it approved its second resolution in three weeks aimed at blocking seizure of independence by Prime Minister Ian Smith's white minority government.

Britain's minister of state for foreign affairs, Lord Caradon, declared Britain could not conceivably accept the assembly's demand for use of force. Such an action could only introduce "discord and disagreement" at a moment of extreme danger in the self-governing British colony.

Rusk States U. S., European Troops Should Integrate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, clashing with French President Charles de Gaulle, declared Friday that integration of U.S. and allied forces in Europe is an operational necessity to avoid "complete confusion at a moment of crisis."

"We have a very substantial force in the heart of Europe—if my friends in Europe would forgive me—surrounded in a sea of foreigners," Rusk said. "Integration is imposed upon us by the de facto situation."

"Our responsibility for the effectiveness and the security and the future of those forces in Europe is such that we need to know who is going to do what, when and where, if there is trouble."

His strong defense of the allied integration system at a news conference immediately raised a question of whether if De Gaulle succeeded in breaking down the system the United States would pull its forces out of Europe.

When this question was put to Rusk he declined a direct answer, but replied: "With these troops in the heart of Europe, there is a certain de facto impulsion toward integration of strategy and command and arrangements and logistics and all sorts of things. This is something that is required, it seems to us, by the operational necessities of the situation."

2ND 7-YEAR TERM

De Gaulle, who announced Thursday that he would stand for a second seven-year term as president of France, already has declared—at a September news conference—his determination to seek an end to the integration of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces by 1969, at least so far as France is concerned.

A showdown on this issue probably will begin to develop next year with French proposals for reorganization of NATO. In effect De Gaulle's press conference in September and Rusk's response Friday marked the joining of the struggle.

While Rusk left the implied threat of a U.S. withdrawal of forces from Europe without denial, U.S. officials say privately that their strategy in meeting the De Gaulle challenge does not contemplate such an outcome. On the contrary, the United States and other non-French allies already have started planning for maintaining the present NATO system without France, if necessary.

U.S. authorities are confident that the other allies will not follow De Gaulle's lead and that whatever pullout occurs will be executed by the French and not by the United States.

Morrissey Asks Name Withdrawn

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Francis X. Morrissey of Boston, whose nomination to be a U.S. District Court judge stirred a storm in the Senate, asked President Johnson on Friday to withdraw his nomination. Johnson said he would comply.

Morrissey, a long-time friend and political ally of the Kennedy family, told Johnson in a letter received Friday:

PREVENT ANGUISH

"To prevent further anguish to my family and further harassment to you and to those who have supported me so loyally, I respectfully request that my nomination to the federal bench be withdrawn."

"I shall always be grateful for the confidence you showed in nominating me, but, notwithstanding the merits of that nomination, I do not want to be the cause of diverting your time and energies from the important programs of your great administration."

Johnson wired back: "I have received your letter and will of course respect your desires. But let me say that you have in recent weeks demonstrated real courage and qualities of character I greatly admire and of which your children can always be proud."

A Municipal Court judge in Boston, Morrissey has been close to the head of the Kennedy clan. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late President John F. Kennedy, and the rest of the family.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., backed Morrissey for the federal court appointment. But a furor developed over Morrissey's qualifications, and Kennedy wound up by asking in an emotion-packed Senate speech that the nomination be sent back to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Technically, the nomination died with the old Congress, and would have had to be resubmitted had Morrissey and Johnson and Kennedy wanted to push it in the next session.

Johnson conceivably could have given Morrissey a recess appointment which would have permitted him to serve pending Senate action on a new nomination next year. But Morrissey would have had to resign his present judgeship to accept with no assurance of permanent appointment.

Molotov Now Working With Russian Head

LONDON (AP) — East European diplomats reported Friday that Vyacheslav M. Molotov has been rehabilitated after eight years in the political doghouse and is now working behind the scenes as Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's personal adviser on foreign affairs.

These Communist informants stressed that the former premier and foreign minister, 75, who was Joseph Stalin's right-hand man, has no official post. But they said he is being consulted by Kosygin not only on foreign policy but on some economic matters as well.

They said Molotov had an important role in preparing the new economic program which Kosygin outlined to the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee Sept. 27.

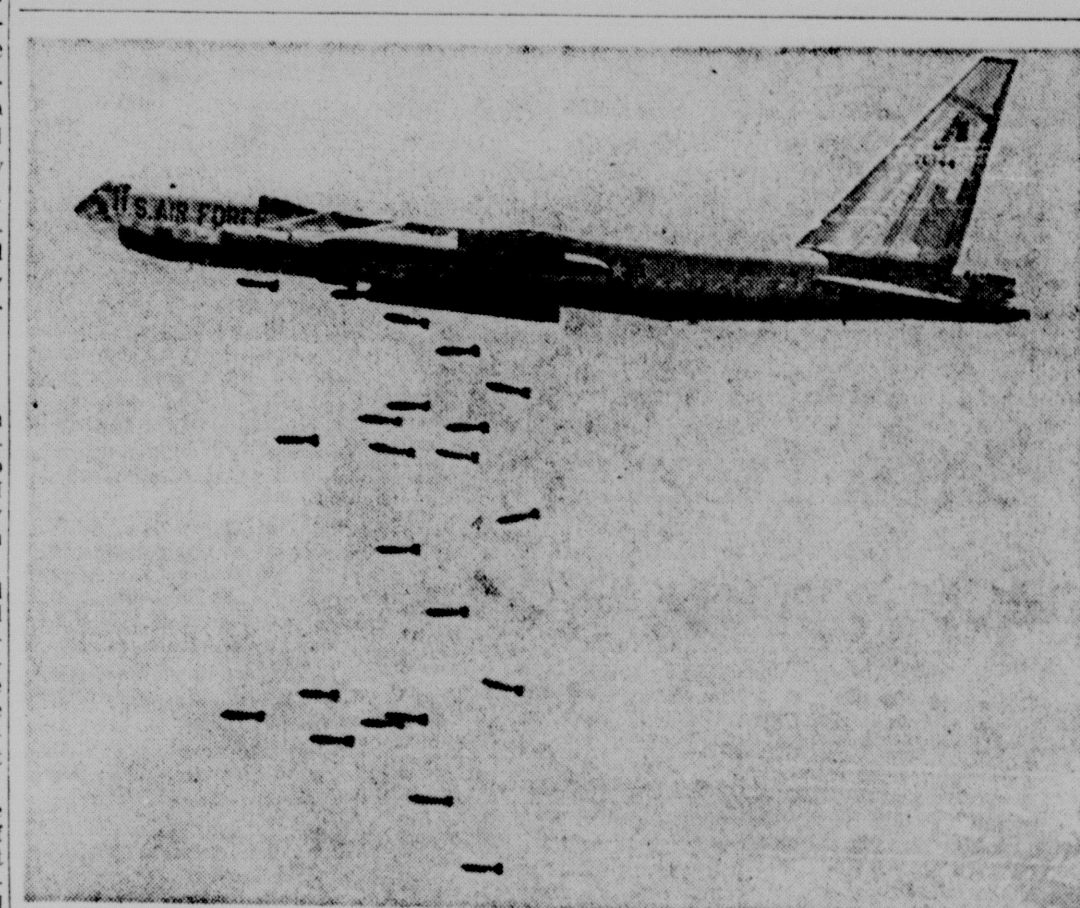

British officials here said they had no confirmation of these reports.

The East European informants noted that one of Molotov's final acts before Nikita Khrushchev had him expelled from the Central Committee on July 3, 1957, for alleged anti-party acts was a speech in which he stated that any Communist country which adopted a policy independent of that of the Soviet Union "endangers its own existence."

This was a warning against making peace with President Tito of Yugoslavia could also be taken as an indirect warning to Red China, which already had started moving away from the Moscow line.

Reports received here from Moscow recently said Molotov was called before the party Presidium in September and told of the decision to abolish regional planning commissions gradually. It was over the question of decentralization of agriculture that Molotov broke with Khrushchev in 1956 and 1957. The new program announced by Kosygin in September reversed some of Khrushchev's economic policies.

McKeithen, Delegates To Tour Brazil

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. John McKeithen said Friday he hoped Louisiana can gain considerably more than $20 million in a possible tidelands interim settlement. Some sources are talking about $38 million.

OVER $20 MILLION

The governor declined to speculate on what the size of an interim settlement might be, when questioned in his weekly news conference.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Wednesday said efforts were being made to grant Louisiana well in excess of $20 million—with hints at nearly double that.

"We're hopeful it will be considerably more than $20 million," McKeithen said. But he commented Long had much better contacts in Washington.

McKeithen said he will leave New Orleans tonight on the first leg of a swing through Argentina and Brazil with an International House delegation searching for Latin business.

Now that Army Engineers have called for an indefinite delay in the raising of a chlorine barge here, McKeithen said, "it relieves me of a slight embarrassment, I'm leaving tonight."

McKeithen will be accompanied by Gus Weill, his executive secretary, and nine business leaders in Louisiana.

Included among the delegation will be Monroe men, James W. Moore, vice chairman of the Louisiana Board of Highways; John J. Sherrouse Jr., member of the Louisiana Mineral Board and R. Fred Petty, president of the Tensas Levee Board.

A 30-man delegation at present is in Lima, Peru. McKeithen said he would go to Buenos Aires, Argentina, for a four-day visit, then go to Sao Paulo, Brazil, then Rio de Janeiro, and return to New Orleans Nov. 13.

The governor said he didn't want to comment on a controversial proposal by Sen. B. B. Rayburn, Bogalusa, and Rep. Jesse McLean, St. Tammany Parish, to seek legislative action in reducing the Louisiana Tax Commission to advisory work with parish assessors.

Turkey Claiming Greek Aggression

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Turkey told the U.N. Security Council on Friday that 10,000 Turkish Cypriots are threatened with aggression by Greek Cypriot government counter-attacks that the facts do not bear out the charge.

The charge was leveled by Turkish Ambassador Orhan Erlep at an emergency meeting of the 11 nation council requested by Turkey to deal with new fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in Famagusta.

The council adjourned at 7:22 p.m. after listening to an appeal from the council president, Fernando Ortiz Sanz of Bolivia, to the dissidents to heed previous resolutions calling for a cease-fire and to "refrain from any action likely to worsen the situation in Cyprus."

Dispatches from Famagusta said heavy firing occurred Thursday night and scattered shooting Friday morning. Tension remained high, but there was no violence Friday night.

LIGHT CASUALTIES

Casualties to date included one dead and five wounded on the Turkish Cypriot side and six Greek Cypriot national guardsmen wounded.

After Erlep spoke, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg asked Secretary-General U. Thant whether he had any late information on the situation in Cyprus.

Thant replied that he had been informed by the U.N. command on Cyprus that as of 10:07

Getting Drafted Into Marines Not So Bad

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "If I'm going to have to come out and fight, I may as well fight with the Marines—they're a tougher outfit," said John Williams 20, of Compton, Calif.

"It'll be a little tougher than the Army," said Kenneth Boutte 20, of Hacienda Heights, Calif. "But look at it this way: All the chicks like the uniform."

The Marine Corps is drafting men for the fourth time in its history, and Williams and Boutte were in the first batch of involuntary Leathernecks to arrive at the San Diego recruit depot.

The recruits aren't all happy and neither are some of the Marine drill instructors.

"We're all sorry to see the draft start," said Sgt. Gein Darst, 29, a platoon commander. "There should be a lot of problems adjusting to draftees. Discipline-wise the outlook will change. We'll just have to face it."

Most of the draftees adopted a chin-up attitude and some were downright enthusiastic. Out of the first 62 chosen at the Los Angeles recruiting station 31 agreed to enlist as regulars for three or four years. The draft only requires them to serve two. The recruits were plucked out of a processing line of 620 draftees by a Marine captain.

"I've always wanted to be a Marine, but it never occurred to me to join," said Ted Matsunaga, 19, of Lomita, Calif.

He was in the line — expecting to go to the Army — when the Marine captain quietly tapped him on the shoulder and said:

"Marines to the left, soldiers straight ahead."

"Want to be a Marine?" the captain asked Richard Fair, 19, of Redondo Beach.

"No," said Fair.

"Well, you're in anyway. Step this way."

"How about you soldier, you want to be a Marine?" the captain asked Gary Fanning, 19, of Paramount.

"No," said Fanning.

One draftee who was surprised to become a Marine was Richard Martinez, 20, a beautiful from Bell.

"I don't know how to feel," he said. "I guess if I have to go, it doesn't make any difference. But I'd rather stay here and fix hair."

State To File Original Suit On 1965 Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Friday night permitted South Carolina to file an original suit contesting constitutionality of the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

At the same time the high tribunal said any state wishing to enter the case as a "friend of the court" should submit a request for permission to do so on or before Dec. 20. Argument of the South Carolina suit was set for Jan. 17.

Announcement of the court's action was made after the justices held their customary Friday closed conference.

DENY PERMISSION

The announcement said Justices Hugo L. Black, John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart would deny permission to South Carolina to file its suit.

South Carolina in its motion for permission to file said it wished the courts to rule that the 1965 act violates the U. S. Constitution, and to issue an order prohibiting the U.S. attorney general from proceeding with any steps to enforce the legislation.

Actions taken by a state or states, or by the federal government, directly to the Supreme Court without the usual procedure of going first through lower federal courts are known as original cases.

The court had nothing to say in Friday night's order about Justice Department motions for filing original suits against Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. The department claimed in the motions that those states were thwarting the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

Presumably the court felt that any ruling in the South Carolina case would cover the situation in all states involved.

South Carolina's request for permission to file suit was submitted to the court last Sept. 29. The Justice Department's motions to file suits against Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana were filed Oct. 21.

Friday night's Supreme Court order said the government should file an answer to the South Carolina suit on or before Nov. 29. South Carolina was directed to file a brief on the merits of its case on or before Dec. 20.

Mississippi had asked a 20-day extension on time previously allowed by the Supreme Court for filing an answer to the Justice Department's request for a quick Supreme Court decision on the 1965 act.

The high court had called for answers by Nov. 10 from Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. Mississippi then asked an extension until Nov. 30, saying that serious questions are involved and in the interest of justice a state should be given more time to prepare an answer.

Mississippi's situation, under Friday night's order, is now covered by the direction that any state interested may submit a "friend of the court" brief on or before Dec. 20.

States desiring to participate in the Jan. 17 argument were told to submit a request to the court clerk on or before Dec. 20.

The act which South Carolina is challenging was passed for the purpose of insuring Negroes' voting rights. It abolishes literacy and other tests in states where less than 50 per cent of the voting-age population was registered or voted in the 1964 elections.

Astronaut Cites Training At Aerospace Symposium

By FRANCES PHILLIPS
State Editor

RUSTON — Highly technical explanations of the space program were the order of the afternoon Thursday as the fifth Aerospace Education Symposium ended a two-day session at Louisiana Tech.

Apollo Astronaut Don Eisele opened the final segment of the symposium at 12:45 p.m., explaining the astronaut training program. Following him were three top officials from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Space Craft Center at Houston.

Christopher C. Kraft Jr., assistant director for flight control and Gemini mission director, spoke at 2:30 p.m. in a full Howard Auditorium. Estimates numbered the crowd at about 1,000 persons, making Kraft's talk the highlight of the symposium.

Kraft outlined the entire flight operations program, using slides to fully impress the audience with the vast scope of the procedure.

The control director said he doesn't think most people realized how much work goes into the planning and execution of each mission.

"We decide what we want to accomplish," he said, "then try to think of every possible thing that might happen and prepare for it."

He explained the development of special equipment necessary for each mission, the environmental testing, training of flight crews and all other personnel, and simulations of flights.

Kraft said that all personnel used simulators before each planned mission "to make sure everybody knows what he is supposed to do."

At the beginning of his talk, he listed the objectives in the flight operations philosophy as follows: centralized control, pre-planned alternate missions, positive course of action for all conceivable situations, communication with spacecraft during all time-critical events, capability for real time mission planning and support to contingency situations.

Computers, Kraft said, are the "heart and soul" of the Mission Control Center in Houston. He described the four basic systems of the center — the real time computer complex, communications, display and control and simulation and checkout. The center also has two control rooms, a recovery control area and a meteorological support center.

U.S. Air Force Maj. Eisele explained that astronaut training was divided into three general areas — academic, operational and contingency. He stressed the use of flight simulators.

Outlining the basic phases of the lunar mission, Duncan stated that the United States would land men on the moon and return them successfully "prior to Dec. 31, 1969."

Bill Lockard II of Cape Kennedy, first speaker on the morning program, displayed the famous Spacemobile from George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

With his rapid-fire delivery and often amusing definitions, Lockard was an audience favorite. He explained the difference between a missile and a rocket, pointing out that the terms are often incorrectly interchanged.

A missile was defined as "a military projectile for the defense of our country," while a rocket is "a launched vehicle to carry scientific payloads."

Lockard also explained to the audience in brief, clear terms the principle of orbiting. "Sixteen is the key word," he said. The rate of gravity is 16 miles per second, and the earth spins at a rate of five miles per second, but curves 16 feet each five miles.

"But at the start of the explanation," he said, "would you have believed me if I told you the astronauts were falling?"

He pointed out that NASA is presently working with 77 foreign countries on space studies. One of the most important requirements for participation in this program is that the nation publish its findings after a one-year period.

Development of the bicycle was used by Dr. A. Rosenbloom to explain systems engineering. Dr. Rosenbloom is manager of Houston operations for TRW Systems, Inc., of Space Park, Calif.

Starting with an imaginary city, he gave a step-by-step outline of the work of a systems engineer in finding the best mode of transportation. After the bicycle was selected, Dr. Rosenbloom took the audience completely through the processes of design, experiments, testing and maintenance.

The advantages of systems engineering, he said, are that it can "produce a balanced set of system and component requirements, avoid hit or miss solutions to technical problems, and provide a unifying thread from concept through production and use."

The objective of the Gemini program is to "incorporate operational proficiency and knowledge of technology in manned space flight," said Charles W. Mathews, manager of the NASA Manned Space Craft Center.

He said the fields of this work included flight duration, rendezvous techniques, re-entry control, extravehicular activity, better ground and flight crew work and payload experiments.

Another panel discussion featuring the day's speakers was held at the end of the session. Questions posed by the audience were answered by the experts.

Three-Year Olds Eligible To Vote

LAVAL, Quebec (AP) — Some 3-year-olds are listed as eligible voters, but polling officers will see that they don't cast ballots in Sunday's election of a mayor.

"Fathers who died left their homes to their children as legal heirs instead of to their wives, and as a result the names of these children appeared on the property rolls and we thought they were eligible," explained Jean Galarneau, a clerk.

There wasn't enough time to change the voting lists. The situation came to light when several residents' children received mail from candidates.

Three Klansmen Are Arraigned For Conspiracy

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Three Ku Klux Klansmen accused in the slaying of civil rights worker Mrs. Viola Liuzzo were arraigned on federal conspiracy charges Friday and released under $50,000 bond each.

Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., recently acquitted by a Hayneville jury on murder charges, William Orville Eaton and Eugene Thomas were taken before U.S. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. and pleaded innocent.

Their trials were set for Nov. 22.

The three were indicted by a federal grand jury last April on charges of conspiring to violate the civil rights of Mrs. Liuzzo, a Detroit mother killed while ferrying civil rights workers back to Selma after the Selma to Montgomery march.

The maximum punishment under the charge could be a $5,000 fine each, 10 years in prison or both.

Attorney Art Hanes, former Birmingham mayor who defended Wilkins in his murder trial, represented all three before Johnson.

The federal government held up action on the conspiracy charges until after Wilkins' trial. The young mechanic's first trial ended in a hung jury. The other two defendants have not been tried on the murder charge.

Thomas Gary Rowe, an FBI informer, testified during Wilkins' trials that he saw Wilkins and Eaton, 41, a retired Bessemer steel worker, fire shots at Mrs. Liuzzo's car near Hayneville the night of March 25.

He said Thomas, 42, a steel worker from Fairfield, was driving the car and gave Wilkins his gun only minutes before Mrs. Liuzzo was slain.

Defense witnesses testified Wilkins was seen in Bessemer the night of the slaying.

North Viet Nam Again Demands U.S. Withdraw

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam has indicated that a second pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam alone would not be recognized as a peace gesture.

It said today the United States must accept its four-point demand of last April 8 before the Communists would enter peace negotiations. The demand includes the withdrawal of American troops from South Viet Nam and a halt in U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam.

The Communists hint of rejecting suggestion that a bombing lull would lead to peace negotiations was made by the official newspaper Nhan Dan in commenting on a recent letter sent by Cambodian chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk to President Tito of Yugoslavia.

LBJ Puts Metals On Market

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson signed bills putting vast quantities of zinc and nickel from the government's strategic metals stockpile on the market Friday. The White House said government aluminum will be sold next year.

The demand for aluminum to fight the war in Viet Nam has increased 50 million to 200 million tons a year. The measures Johnson signed will release 200,000 tons of zinc and 200 million tons of nickel from the national stockpile.

The White House has been discussing with aluminum industry leaders the question of moving surplus government aluminum supplies to the market. There was no White House comment about the Aluminum Company of America's (ALCOA) raising prices Friday.

ALCOA, the biggest producer of aluminum, announced it would raise prices from 24.5 cents to 25 cents a pound on primary aluminum ingot and once cent a pound on most of its fabricated products.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said he did not think there was any relationship between the aluminum price increases and the aluminum

Search Proves Fruitless For Missing Plane

PANAMA (AP) — A wide-spread hunt for an Argentine air force DC4 missing with 69 men proved fruitless Friday. A check of reports it might have crashed in the jungles of central Costa Rica turned up no sign of the big transport.

Maj. Ramon Uribe of the U.S. Search and Rescue Command in Panama said results of the quest throughout that area were negative.

The hunt had centered there as a result of two factors:

The pilot of a helicopter, one of 36 aircraft taking part in the hunt, said a swath of trees in an area 25 miles east of San Jose, the capital, seemed to have been felled as if by a crash landing.

Rusk Gives Good Report On War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk on Friday reported good progress on the Viet Nam war front, predicted some severe fighting ahead—and vigorously defended the rights of antiwar demonstrators at home.

While making plain at a news conference that he disagrees with critics of the administration's Viet Nam policy, Rusk said that in "a vigorous and thriving democracy such as ours we must have debate and an opportunity for dissent."

"I think it would be wrong for the government to try to restrict those opportunities in any way," he said. "I certainly feel very strongly that government should not interfere with the normal

U.N. Approves Resolution On India-Pakistan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council approved a strong new resolution on the India-Pakistan crisis Friday but a Soviet abstention broke the big-power unanimity that had prevailed on the issue.

The resolution insisted that violations of the Sept. 22 ceasefire should stop. It demanded also that India and Pakistan meet with a U.N. representative to agree on a deadline for withdrawal of their armed personnel to Aug. 5 precrisis lines.

The council adopted it 9-0 with two abstentions, Jordan and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union said it abstained because the resolution failed to heed a Soviet demand for a three-month time limit on keeping U.N. cease-fire observers in India and Pakistan. It also criticized the role of Secretary-General U Thant in the crisis. But it did not cast a veto which would have killed the resolution.

Jordan abstained because the resolution failed to stress the need to settle the underlying Indian-Pakistan dispute over Kashmir.

In four previous decisions on the issue in the last two months the 11 council members had been unanimous save for a single Jordanian abstention on Sept. 20.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko blamed "the United States and others" and U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg blamed the Soviet Union for the lack of unity.

Fedorenko repeated an earlier charge that Thant broke U.N. charter provisions in sending more observers to the subcontinent. He said the council itself must decide everything about the observers.

"We have drawn special attention," Fedorenko said, "to the fact that the Security Council should set up a concrete time limit for the presence of U.N. observers, which in any event must not exceed three months."

But, he went on, "the necessary understanding has not been displayed," and "on account of such negative position of the United States and others, violence was done to the principle of unanimity."

In a vague warning, he finished:

"If in future concrete questions concerned with U.N. observers in India and Pakistan will be decided upon in circumvention of the Security Council and in violation of the charter the Soviet Union reserves its right to draw the necessary conclusions there from and duly revise its position."

Goldberg retorted that the Soviet Union — not the United States — had raised the time-limit issue.

"We have tried to cooperate in a spirit of compromise," he said.

"I did not accept the view of the Soviets, as they did not accept ours." But he added that the United States was willing to accept compromise proposals, while the Soviet Union was not.

Pakistan attended the meeting but India continued its two-week boycott based on the contention that Kashmir is Indian territory and not within U.N. jurisdiction.

Lutheran Faith

The Bible is drama. In places the Bible shocks. Sometimes its events are hideous. And sometimes it sounds childish. Yet, through it all runs the thread of the world's most wonderful love story—the love of God.

Men of faith wrote about their experiences with God in the work-a-day world, to share their conviction that God is love...that God does care...that God is just...that God still reigns.

Lutherans believe God is not dead! He still speaks to 20th century man through the drama of the Bible.

McKeithen Says Economy Group Doing Good Job

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Gov. John McKeithen said Friday, "We have no intention of doing away with the economy committee. It has been doing a fine job."

He commented on a statement of Sen. Jamar Adecock of Monroe, chairman of the Legislative Budget Committee, that the budget committee will broaden its inquiries "into every facet of state expenditure" and it should be the committee to pursue economy measures.

McKeithen said he thought perhaps Adecock was misunderstood. The economy committee is scheduled to meet here Tuesday.

Adecock said most of the two-day committee session here was spent on plans for preparing next year's budget. The group will return Nov. 29-30.

In broadening its inquiry into state spending, Adecock said, "the committee plans to make greater use of existing staff facilities in the division of administration in order to assure that the valuable time of agency heads will not be spent in unnecessary appearances before formal committee hearings."

Law Professor Sues

With all of the hue and cry throughout the country over variations and so-called inequities in state laws on traffic and other phases of human behavior, the so-called voting rights law enacted in the last session of Congress hits the jackpot in crude discrimination and favoritism. And this is a federal law, under which all people of the nation heretofore have been presumed to be equal.

The new voting law, which permits illiterates to vote in certain states but does not give them that privilege in other states, in all probability is the most discriminatory law ever put on the federal statute books of this country. Without waiting for a Supreme Court decision, which is expected to come eventually, we hereby declare this law to be unconstitutional. Our ruling, of course, is without court authority and we must wait until the Supreme Court decides whether it wants to make a decision based on political expediency or whether it wishes to uphold the clear intent of the Constitution of the United States.

With some pride, it has been pointed out that, youthful as is Memphis State University's School of Law, it has become involved in what could be a landmark Supreme Court decision.

Dr. Alfred Avins, a new professor on the law school faculty, has pending a suit which challenges inequity in the so-called Voting Rights Act.

As counsel for plaintiffs protesting the act's crafty language, which allows illiterates to vote in some states but not in others, Dr. Avins is raising the question of states' rights again.

This is a constitutional issue. It is contended that, under the present Constitution, Congress went beyond its powers in setting its own standards for voting registration. No Congressman, even if heavily influenced by political considerations, who gave any serious study to the act's inequities, could conscientiously declare the so-called Voting Rights Act either fair or just, even if he did not weigh it on constitutional scales. It is difficult to see how any who studied it conscientiously could have failed to see that it was patently unconstitutional.

The Voting Rights Act was a two-edged sword and was aimed at specific Southern states. It was intended as a punishment for those states for their persistence in holding to their rights to choose their associates and was also intended to give Negroes in those states voting rights not enjoyed by those in other states. In other words, Negro illiterates were to be permitted to vote in those states but were not to be permitted to do so in other states. In fact, it was stated at the time the legislation was pending that some members of the Senate and House of Representatives would not agree to vote for the bill unless it was worded so their own states would be exempted.

This we regard as contemptible action on the part of those Congressmen. It was clearly discriminatory, unfair, imposed a burden on the people of some states which the Congressmen were not willing for their states to share and thus became clearly a violation of the Constitution, which guarantees equal rights for all.

The specific states at which the legislation was aimed were Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina. Those are the ones now visited by federally-appointed registrars, set up in violation of the Constitutional guarantee of states' rights.

But the new law also favors a special group — Puerto Rican and Negro residents of New York who cannot read or write. Puerto Ricans in New York customarily vote along with the Negroes and it was largely through the combined vote of Puerto Ricans and Negroes that Adam Clayton Powell, Negro Congressman from Harlem, was elected. In the past, a minimum of literacy has been a New York state voting requirement but even this minimum was wiped out.

Dr. Avins and his clients are protesting before a three-judge federal bench in Washington and the case is expected to move up to the Supreme Court eventually.

While four Southern states are making a constitutional challenge to the voting act, this may be the case that sets the precedent for clear decisions.

Regardless of the eventual Supreme Court decision, it behooves those who believe in equality and constitutional rights to fight this unfair act all the way down the line.

Somebody Forbid

A frequent expression, when something is about to happen that we hope won't happen, is "heaven forbid." Well, we will say either that or "somebody forbid" in connection with the published statement that the victory of so-called Republican John V. Lindsay in the New York mayoral race "makes him a major contender for the G. O. P. presidential nomination."

Lindsay will become New York's first registered Republican mayor in 20 years but he does not represent the true spirit of the Republican party of this country. Lindsay disavowed support of conservative Republicans, appeared embarrassed by the support of such so-called "liberal" Republicans as Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller and directed his appeal to leftist Democrats and radical-liberals. He seemed to be trying to outdo the leftist Democratic leaders and his tactics apparently succeeded. He generally received the Republican votes and those of the radical-liberals, which were enough to win.

Lindsay's youth and good looks compared to those of his Democratic opponent, Abraham D. Beame, nominated without the support of present Mayor Robert F. Wagner, also were counted as heavily-contributing factors. Lindsay is 43 and Beame is 59.

Although finishing far behind Lindsay and Beame, who received more than a million votes each, William F. Buckley Jr., a conservative Republican, running independently, tallied 339,127 votes, and thus leaped into the limelight. It might be said that Buckley won these votes practically singlehandedly, since he had said at the outset that he was sure of only one vote, presumably his own.

Buckley, wealthy, urbane, editor of the National Review Magazine, supported Goldwater in 1964 and wore his Republican label proudly and stood four-square for what conservative members of his party stand for during his campaign, while Lindsay apparently shunned being called a Republican.

If we can't do any better than Lindsay for the 1968 Republican standard-bearer, we shall have to look outside that party for a conservative leader. It is to be hoped the Republicans won't try to "out-liberal" the Democrats by nominating Lindsay.

Rallies Changing

A definite change for the better was evidenced when students from the Educational Institute of Pittsburgh and the University of Pittsburgh staged a rally in support of the United States policy in Viet Nam on Pitt campus.

Some 1,500 persons turned out for the demonstration, which started with a chant expressing wholehearted backing of the American forces in Viet Nam and ended with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

This is indeed a wholesome change from rallies staged by long-haired kooks and beatniks against everything that represents law and order and sane government action. It may mark a turning point, and it shows our young people mostly are not made up of radicals.

School Pressure Is Feared

Encroachment May Slow Education

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S plea for better education for all have been received with enthusiasm by political leaders, but there is evidence that progress under legislation passed at the recent session of Congress will not be as rapid as the President envisions.

Problems of school integration in both North and South with slow progress in dozens of local school systems has received headlines, but educators see a problem of greater perspective, over the coming years in what they fear may be constantly increasing pressure by the Federal Government on schools in general.

This is only part of the apprehension that federal authority will assume many of the administrative functions which have been exercised primarily by the States, with some Federal cooperation.

State educational supervisors are watching one man, Francis Keppel, U.S. Director of Education, who has rather clearly indicated in several statements that he believes the grant of Federal funds to education, from primary grades to colleges, carries with it certain powers of institutional control.

KEPPEL HAS power to hold up Federal funds from any of these institutions if he is convinced that they are in any respect countenancing racial segregation, as was evidenced recently when he abruptly cut off $30,000,000 in educational grants to the City of Chicago. But educators, who think that such decisions are politically motivated, are giving more thought to the effect which the Washington influence may have on teaching itself.

While the racial issue is involved in some manner at every turn in educational controversy thus far, some educators have already wondered whether government agencies may not try to influence the views of teachers, the contents of text books and the organization of school systems.

As indications of such attempts become apparent, and they have so far been rather meager, a great argument may be shaping up from coast to coast. The National Educational Association, with a huge headquarters set-up here in Washington, is an educational power house. Local Parent-Teacher Associations have just begun to show that they too, want to know what is going on.

There is no sign that the President is concerned about the situation. He holds agency heads responsible for what they do, and it is unlikely that Keppel, after the Illinois gesture, which the President promptly overruled, will make any more such moves to further his authority over local school systems.

BUT 42 DIFFERENT departments, bureaus and agencies of the government have part in the educational program, which has no central direction, despite the budget provision of $4,100,000,000 for the whole field of education. All of these in one way or another may view Federal grants as carrying authority to make decisions heretofore made by local school supervisors.

The growing suspicion in Congress of possible Federal influence over teaching led to one of the few setbacks the president suffered — the refusal to approve $13,200,000 for a National Teachers Corps to train 6,000 teachers for schools in low income neighborhoods. A further move to make this money available for such a corps is expected at the next session, for President Johnson does not give up easily.

The general fear of educators is that a Federal bureaucracy to control local schools, with the present State direction gradually being eliminated is in the making.

Their initial resentment has been registered against a series of tests given primary pupils in some 5,000 schools, worked out under Keppel's direction, ostensibly to obtain information whether children are given equal educational opportunity.

THESE questionnaires are explained as in compliance with one of the inconspicuous sections of the Civil Rights Act, passed so quickly that many members of Congress complained they had no opportunity to become familiar with all of its scores of requirements. When the questions became public they were found to include many of a highly personal nature, concerning sex, religion, family relationships, income and property. Originally it was understood that the questionnaires were to apply only to racial matters, to further the purposes of the Civil Rights Act.

A number of State school officials have said that the Federal Government now has power to pass on all proposals of local school districts, which amounts to Federal control.

That interpretation can mean an authority going much beyond racial segregation, to which government school action has so far been mainly limited.

The concern of educators is that local school boards will be reluctant to oppose the Federal control agencies, which will have authority to distribute a billion dollars a year in aid to local schools, at a time when school costs are rising on every hand. School superintendents are prepared to acquiesce in a certain amount of federal guidance, but not in what shall be taught or in the books used in teaching.

U.S. Mainstream Made Up Of Whom?

FROM TIME TO time, it is a sound and interesting practice to pause in the hurried examination of what is happening now, and to contemplate what has already zipped behind us. With so much talk last year of the "mainstream" of American politics, this backward look has an additional virtue. Therefore, for your edification and mine, here's a sampler of positions taken in the past by the most mainstream politicians — according to some.

On government planning: 1. "The doctrine of regulation and legislation by 'master minds,' in whose judgment and will all the people may gladly acquiesce, has been too glaringly apparent at Washington during the last . . . years. Were it possible to find 'master minds' so unselfish, so willing to decide unhesitatingly against their own personal interests or private prejudices, men almost godlike in their ability to hold the scales of justice with an even hand, such a government might be to the interest of the country; but there are none such on our political horizon, and we cannot expect a complete reversal of the teachings of history."

PRETTY Goldwaterish stuff, isn't it? But read on.

2. "The preservation of this home rule by the states is not a cry of jealous commonwealths seeking their own aggrandizement at the expense of sister states. It is a fundamental necessity if we are to remain a truly united country. . . . Through a dividing of government into units called states, the rights and interests of the minority have been respected and have always been given a voice in the control of our affairs."

That sounds pretty far out, at least to those who keep talking about the mainstream.

4. "To bring about government by oligarchy, it is fundamentally essential that practically all authority and control be centralized in our national government. . . . We are safe from the dangers of any such departure from the principles on which this country was founded just so long as the individual home rule of the individual states is scrupulously preserved and fought for whenever they seem in danger."

That could almost be Strom Thurmond.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY

Jackie Robinson Noisy In Politics

MR. JACKIE Robinson, the baseball figure, leads a rather noisy life in New York City, never losing an opportunity to asseverate on social and political matters. He is rather different, when dealing in politics, from the affable second baseman whose reputation he draws upon in order to win him an audience. A year or so ago Senator Goldwater, freshly nominated for President, wrote to Robinson a most manly letter, urging a private conference in order that Robinson might satisfy himself that Goldwater was not in any sense anti-Negro. Robinson published the Senator's letter together with a rude reply to the effect that he would not demean himself by conferring with Senator Goldwater, unless the Senator first repudiated his entire political philosophy. This — to Robinson's surprise, one gathers — the Senator politely declined to do.

Robinson most recently announced, in almost as many words, that the Negro people propose to take matters into their own hands whenever the voters take action disagreeable to him. He began, in a radio interview, commenting on the injustice done in Alabama to the killer of Mrs. Liuzzo. It is proper, I know, to refer to Wilkins as "the alleged killer," because a jury found him innocent of the crime; but Robinson knows, and Wilkins knows, and I know, that Wilkins is guilty, or that J. Edgar Hoover is a frame-up artist. Robinson properly inveighed against the jury in Alabama, and properly expresses the sense of despair and futility felt by his people against such miscarriages of justice.

BUT THEN THERE begins one of those elisions. You are nodding along about the injustice in parts of the South: about the influence of the Ku Klux Klan; and before you know it you have to stop nodding your head very sharply, or you will find that you are assenting to the proposition that the true enemies of the Negro race, who make all of this possible, are the conservatives. These, it turns out, are "bigots." If these "bigots" make headway, "we've got to get ready and prepare ourselves for the ultimate. — We're going to organize because you can't afford in New York City to have (Goldwater types) getting more and more people over to their side without taking some action yourself. When, in this country, in 1965, we are allowed to have people go out and murder with impunity, it could happen right here in New York (Comment: it does; every day), and we're not going to sit back and take it."

Questioner: "What type of ac-

5. "I shall carry out the plain precept of our party, which is to reduce the cost of the current Federal government operations by 25 percent. Of course that means a complete realignment of the unprecedented bureaucracy that has assembled in Washington in the last four years. . . . The Administration has resorted to the type of inflation which has weakened public confidence in our credit at home and abroad. . . . Let us have the courage to stop borrowing to meet deficits. Stop the deficits!"

AND ONE MORE, sounding like Richard Nixon — or any conservative Republican speaker:

6. "I accuse the present Administration of being the greatest spending Administration in peace time in all our history, and which has piled bureau on bureau, commission on commission."

Finally: "We advocate a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards. That is plain English."

Every one of those statements were made by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt when he was running against Herbert Hoover in 1932 and, incidentally, promising to balance the budget if he defeated the spendthrift and welfare Republicans.

Mr. Roosevelt was making these statements at a time when the Executive Branch employed 575,000 people — as opposed to the 2.9 million, and rising, in 1964. This was a time when the Federal administrative budget was $4.6 billion, and expenditure by the Treasury, $4.7 billion — compared to a 1965 budget of $97.2 billion and expenditures of $122.2 billion. The Federal debt when Mr. Roosevelt was delivering himself of the foregoing sentiments was $22.5 billion. It is now $316.5 billion.

This should prove that if Mr. Roosevelt was in the mainstream, as every schoolboy and Democratic politician knows, then so is Barry Goldwater and so am I. Not so for Lyndon Johnson. He is not even in the river. Of course, Mr. Roosevelt was in the mainstream, just as conservatives today are. Once in office, he listened to the professors and the liberal-left assortment he washed into Washington with him. That made the difference.

Answer: "I don't know. I just talked this over with about four people, and they all agreed, and one fellow who owns a ballroom, he says, 'We will get our ballroom, and we will talk it over, and we'll make our decisions as to what we're going to do, but we're not going to stand for (it).' I love Dr. Martin Luther King; I work for him; I go wherever he asks me to go; but I'm not one that's going to turn the other cheek. I've lived too long now, I've suffered too much and I tell you very frankly, I can see this thing happening, and if the people of New York support (the Goldwater conservatives) and give them a substantial vote, I think you can look for serious problems in this city."

You figure it out. Since I have never met a Goldwater conservative in New York who favors other than justice and opportunity for Negroes; who doesn't deplore the Ku Klux Klan and its servile juries; what then is Mr. Robinson talking about? I fear he is taking the position that he is prepared to take the law into his own hands to resist American conservatives who, in addition to believing in the rights of Negroes, believe also in the rights of white people — to vote for conservative politics. It is all a big blur in Mr. Robinson's mind: the Klan. . . . Mrs. Liuzzo. . . . Collier LeRoy Wilkins. . . . Goldwater. . . . conservatism. . . . One of the rights the Negroes in New York have which nobody has got in the way of their exercising, is the right to tell Jackie Robinson to go back to the Hall of Fame and sit on his throne there, and stop discrediting the cause of interracial progress by threatening violence on any community whose members disagree with Robinson's own undeveloped political views.

Plans To Buy Planes Reported By Trans-Texas

HOUSTON, Tex. (Special) — R. Earl McKaughan, president and chairman of the board of Trans-Texas Airways, Inc., this week announced plans to purchase seven short- to medium range pure-jet Douglas DC-9 planes.

The Houston-based airline also filed an option to buy eight additional DC-9's.

The total order, pending arrangements of satisfactory financing and including the exercise of the option, will represent an investment of about $51 million, including spare parts.

Deliveries of the first of the new DC-9's are set for September and October of 1966, with the balance of the initial order to be delivered in mid-1967.

McKaughan said "TTA expects to be completely jet-powered by the end of 1967."

The JT8D turbofan engines, will develop up to 24,000 pounds of thrust on takeoff, and will operate under standard conditions from airports having runway lengths of 5,000 feet.

The fleet of DC-9 jets will join TTA's fleet of 25 Silver Cloud Convair 600's, which will be introduced early next year on TTA's routes. The Convair 600, the turbo-prop version of the Convairliner, will provide faster, smoother and quieter flight.

Police Here Looking For Armed Bandit

Monroe police Friday were faced with the third armed robbery here in less than two weeks after a lone gunman held up a 7-11 Food Store at 3412 DeSiard St. late Thursday.

The latest robbery occurred minutes before midnight and netted almost $150.

According to police reports, three employees had just finished taking inventory and were leaving the store by the front door when a man in his 20's forced them back into the store at gunpoint and demanded the money. The robber then disappeared around the building.

The man fit the description of one of a pair that robbed the Lee Avenue 7-11 store of $140 Saturday night. Again, employees could not tell police the mode of escape.

Oct. 27, a knife-wielding robber stole $500 from Sales Finance Co. at 611 N. 4th St. after terrorizing employees. He escaped in the company manager's car, later found abandoned at Twin Cities Shopping Center.

In other action, Monroe police booked Ronald Troy King, 18, Collietown Motel, Monroe, with felony theft. The youth is charged with taking a rifle from Barkers on Louisville Avenue where he was a part-time employee.

Mrs. Donald O. Alexander, 29, of 209 Stubbs Ave., Monroe, was booked on three counts of theft by check.

Charged with theft was Alex Logan, 18, of No. 11, Breard Alley, Monroe.

Booked for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages in Monroe were Johnny Sanders, 43, of 913 Hoods Alley, Monroe; and Earl Johnson, 25, of 1722 Medlock St., Monroe. Both were apprehended on DeSiard late Thursday.

Booked for DWI in West Monroe was Freddie F. Mobly, 22, of Rt. 2, Box 293, West Monroe, apprehended on Interstate Highway 20 at 12:50 a.m.

Central School Lot Is Closed

Parking will no longer be allowed on the Central Grammar School parking lot, according to Major George Whitlow of the Monroe police department.

"Oak Street is now open, so we are closing the school lot to parking," Whitlow said.

Plans On Rural Fire Protection Are Underway

Plans to borrow operating funds for Ouachita Parish rural fire protection were progressing Friday, but officials were advised that borrowing from the Ouachita Parish Police Jury for the purpose would be illegal.

A budget for next year will be recommended to the jury at its meeting Monday night.

Jurors, who double as commissioners of the rural Ouachita fire district, will meet as commissioners after their 7 p.m. jury session.

Officials face the problem of providing protection through next year, according to Fred Huenefeld Jr., chairman of the citizens' committee which is counseling with the police jury on fire protection. Revenue from the operating tax passed in September will not become available until early 1967, and the jury has previously discussed the possibility of borrowing.

Though borrowing has become an obvious necessity, officials have said a loan from the general fund of the police jury for fire protection would be illegal.

The new parish fire chief, Homer Massingill, named last week, has been working with legal officers in the preparation of a minimum budget for next year along with a resolution seeking borrowing authority from the Louisiana Bond and Tax Commission.

Huenefeld will make the recommendations Monday night.

About two weeks will be required to receive borrowing authority from the state commission, necessary before funds can be sought through local banks.

The money will be repaid from 1966 tax proceeds, receivable in 1967, cutting into 1967 operating funds, so, Huenefeld explained, the '66 spending schedule will be "cut to the bone."

North Vietnamese Troops In South

SAIGON (UPI)—Five regular North Vietnamese army regiments are operating in the central highlands of South Viet Nam but some of the troops have been demoralized by food shortages and defeats at the hands of the Americans, U.S. military authorities reported Friday.

There was no report of any major ground fighting during the day. American planes continued to hit targets on both South and North Viet Nam.

'Great Society'

SORRENTO, Italy (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro envisions a "great society" for Italy. He used the Johnsonian phrase in telling a meeting of Christian Democrat party leaders here:

"I hope this task (of solving economic problems) will be realized because in the confusion and improvisation (to meet the economic crisis) there was no loss of the hopes which have opened up for a 'great society' in Italy."

ommendations Monday night.

About two weeks will be required to receive borrowing authority from the state commission, necessary before funds can be sought through local banks.

The money will be repaid from 1966 tax proceeds, receivable in 1967, cutting into 1967 operating funds, so, Huenefeld explained, the '66 spending schedule will be "cut to the bone."

A U.S. military spokesman said the five North Vietnamese regiments positively identified included the 18th, 95th and 101st regiments of the 325th division, and the 32nd and 250 regiments, apparently operating independently. The total of regular troops involved could run as high as 7,500, it was reported.

At least one, and possibly two, of the regiments took part in the week-long siege. Special Forces outpost of Plei Me last month.

Lt. Olin McCormick of Atlanta, Ga., intelligence officer for the 1st brigade of the 1st U.S. Cavalry Division, said North Vietnamese captives were sick, undernourished and demoralized.

McCormick questioned 40 or 124 North Vietnamese soldiers captured after a battle near Plei Me on Monday. He said most were under 20 and half had received no military training before being ordered into South Viet Nam. Some complained they had been underfed and never supplied with medicine.

The officer also said that other hungry and frightened North Vietnamese soldiers who took part in the Plei Me fighting were looking for Americans to whom they could surrender.

He said some told him they waved white flags at American helicopters in hope that the aircraft would land and capture them. One Army helicopter did land and the North Vietnamese swarmed aboard with weapons still in their hands, eager to be carried into captivity in spite of warnings from their commanders that the Americans would torture and kill them.

(Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington confirmed reports that the 32nd and 250th regiments had slipped into South Viet Nam according to indications from prisoners, captured documents and defectors.

(Rusk reported a continuing and substantial buildup of Communist forces in Viet Nam but said he did not see the increase as "reflecting any major new decision" by the Hanoi regime to escalate the war. He said it was rather a continuation of the "general pattern" and that the Communists would not be able "to impose a military solution" to the conflict.

The Communist prisoners, 48 of whom were wounded, were rounded up after a battle five miles west of Plei Me on Monday. McCormick said 134 dead Communists have been found since then on the battlefield.

If you have a question that you want answered, write or call "Mr. Editor, Tell Me, Please" at the Morning World and News-Star. We'll be glad to get the information and pass it along to you in this column.

Is it possible to get a sign placed on I-20 at the Thomas Road exit showing that this exit will take you to Glenwood Hospital? Also, will there be an exit on I-20 for Selman Field? Will the 165 bypass cross overhead at U. S. 80 or will the intersection be at ground level?

First, the local highway department informs us that it would be necessary for the U.S. Bureau of Roads to approve a highway sign such as you propose at the Thomas Road exit. All signs for the interstate system must be so approved and the government bureau has a handbook for signs. The local highway official said, however, that an investigation could be conducted and a recommendation made to the bureau.

There will be no direct exit to Selman Field. You will have to leave I-20 at the 165 bypass and travel on to the airport via a city street.

U. S. 165 will intersect U. S. 80 at ground level.

What is the objective of the Treasury Department's school savings program and how many dollars does it account for?

The primary objective of school savings is to encourage school children to practice thrift and to participate in the responsibilities of citizenship through the regular purchase of U. S. Savings Stamps and Bonds. More than 100 million savings stamps are sold each year, mostly through schools, with a dollar volume of about $18.5 million.

I read somewhere that marriage licenses in Louisiana cost $2. It must be some mistake because I was told in the court house in Monroe the license would be $5. Which is correct?

Mrs. Ruby Bass, deputy clerk for the Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court, said the price of a marriage license is $5. She said the information that a license costs $2 is erroneous.

Mrs. Bass, who normally handles the applications for licenses, said there has not been a $2 fee for a number of years.

Who pays the electric bill for air conditioning Sterling High School auditorium?

The Ouachita Parish School Board pays utility bills of all Ouachita Parish schools.

How many miles of gravel road are there in Ward 5 and how many in Ward 3? How much tax is received from Ward 5 and how much from Ward 3?

Records show 24 miles of gravel roadway in Ward 3, while there are 44 miles in Ward 5.

It is assumed the questioner in asking about tax is referring to the parish's total two mill blacktop and blacktop maintenance tax. If that is so, the 1964 records show a grand total of $43,788.64 collected in Ward 3, including the City of Monroe, and a grand total of $76,013.78 collected in Ward 5.

Back in history, what was the Holy Alliance?

That was a treaty concluded by Russia, Austria and Prussia at Paris in 1815, binding the sovereign rulers in brotherhood and proclaiming Christianity Foundation of government.

What is meant by a holding company?

This is a company that holds stock in one or more companies for investment or operating purposes, or both.

What is a hula?

It is a native Hawaiian dance performed by a woman, with intricate arm movements that tell a story in pantomime.

I was reading the other night and came across the word Indra. Was he ever considered a God by any people?

Yes. In early Hindu mythology he was the god of the firmament and of the rain. In the Vedas he is a god of the first rank; in later mythology he falls to a second rank.

When speaking of a bow arm, what does it mean?

In playing a violin, it is considered the right arm; in archery, the left arm.

What is a capital ship?

It is a warship of large size (including aircraft carriers, carrying guns of over 8-inch caliber; battleship or battle cruiser).

Bloody Details Of 3 Murders Told To Jury

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Prosecutors placed before a jury Friday the bloody details of the killing of three bank employees — testimony labeled "gruesome" and prejudicial by the defense — in an attempt to prove "beyond doubt" that Duane Earl Pope was the slayer.

Defense attorney Robert B. Crosby fought unsuccessfully to bar the testimony of pathologist W.O. Brown, who performed autopsies on the bodies of three persons gunned down in the Farmers State Bank at Big Springs, Neb.

Crosby argued that, in view of the fact that Pope has signed a "judicial admission" to the June 4 robbery shootings, the testimony was redundant and "has no purpose but to prejudice the jury."

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Van Pelt overruled the objections of Crosby, former Nebraska governor, and said Pope's "judicial admission" did not actually acknowledge that the victims died.

Brown testified that bank President Andrew Kjelgaard, 77, and cashier Glenn Hendrickson, 59, died as a direct result of gunshot wounds in their hearts.

He said Mrs. Lois Ann Hithan, 35, a bookkeeper, was asphyxiated by blood from a neck wound that filled her respiratory passage. She would have survived the two bullet wounds she sustained in the shooting if she had not been asphyxiated, he said.

Brown did not examine Franklin Kjelgaard, 25-year-old assistant cashier and nephew of the bank president, who was wounded critically. Young Kjelgaard, who was paralyzed from the waist down, is scheduled to be a prime government witness.

Nursing Homes Accredited By National Group

Harris B. Hones, acting executive director of The National Council for the Accreditation of Nursing Homes, announced Friday that Brockner's Nursing Home, Columbia, and St. Joseph's Home for Infirmary and Aged, Monroe, have been accredited as Intensive Nursing Care Facilities.

The facilities were awarded this distinction on the basis of a recently completed survey by a field representative of The Council.

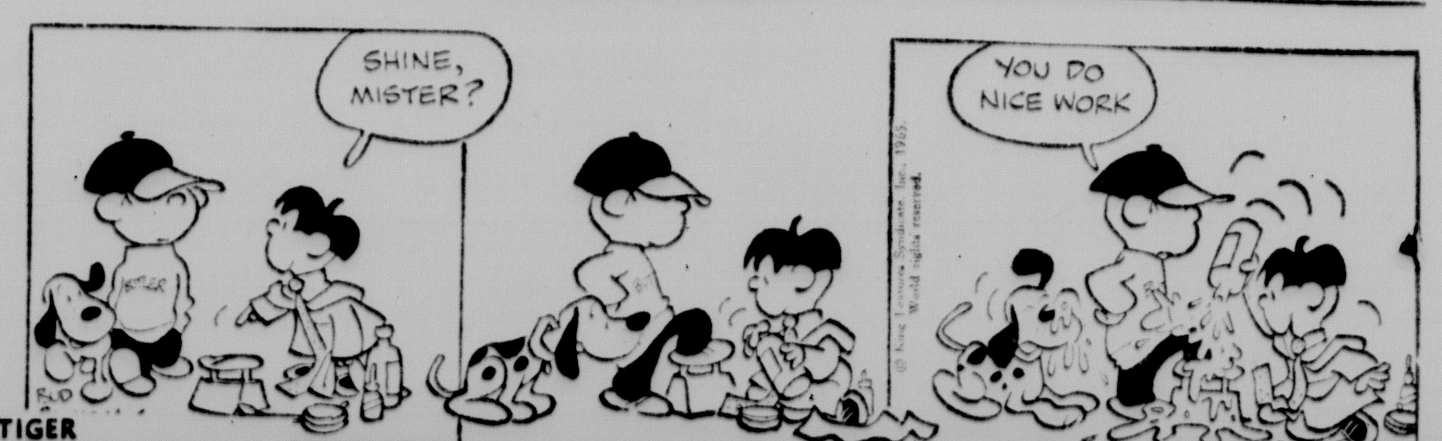

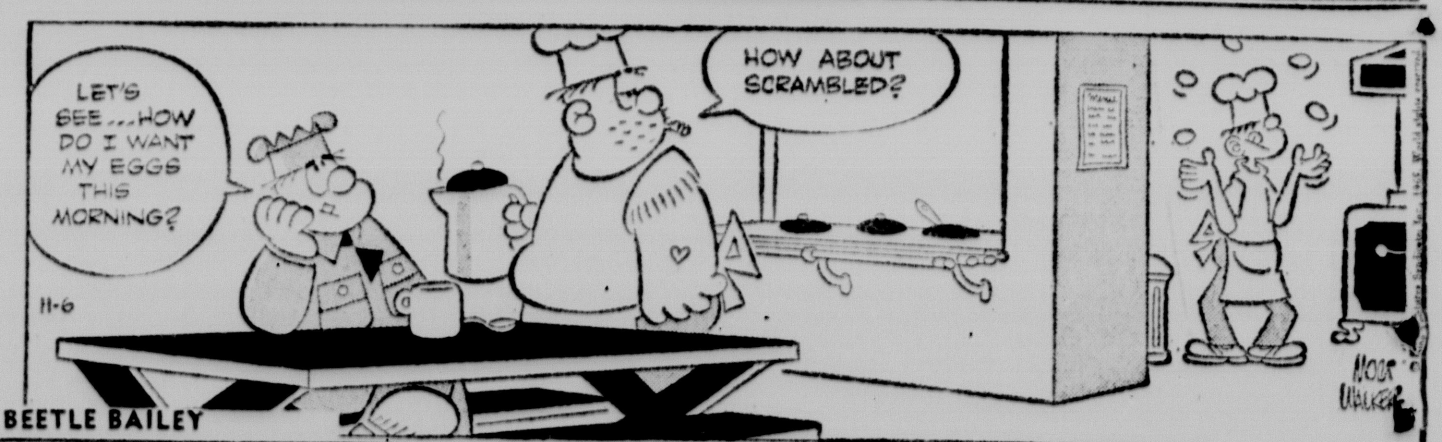

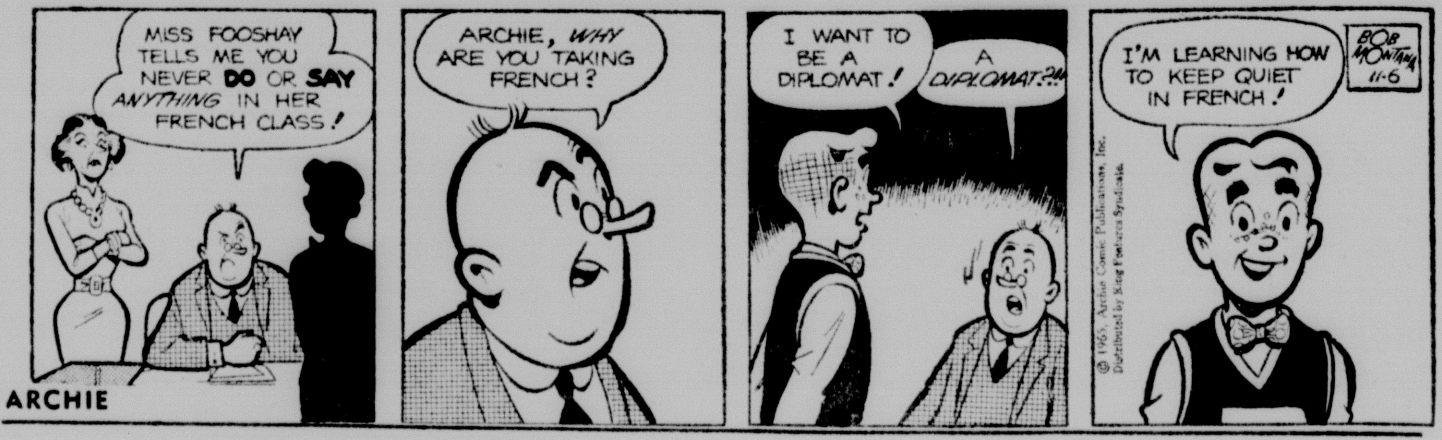

The National Council was established in April, 1963, under the sponsorship of the American Medical Association and the American Nursing Home Association to promote standards of professional care of high quality in the operation of nursing homes throughout North America.

The Council's program is a voluntary one, surveys being made only on the request of the facility involved. More than 831 facilities have been accredited to date.

Grenade Lodged In Back Removed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force surgeons manipulating steel claws from behind sandbags, cut a Viet Cong grenade from the back of a Vietnamese farmer and lifted it away safely in four tense minutes Friday.

"Now we can say it was easy," said the chief surgeon, Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr., Richmond, Va., dabbing a handkerchief on sweat that beaded his forehead.

The patient, Nguyen Van Chinh, 52, sat up and smiled again after five days as a living explosive, fasting and praying in quarantine in a shed behind a Saigon hospital.

He is a frail man with a wispy beard.

Blood dripped from the long incision in his back as stretcher bearers took over, but medical men said it is only a flesh wound now.

Field Goal In Closing Tops Tigers

By BUTCH MUIR
World Sports Writer

Woodlawn's Russell Evans booted a 24 yard field goal with only 17 seconds to play and gave the Knights a crucial 9-7 1-AAA victory over the game Neville Tigers before a packed house despite a steady drizzle throughout the contest here Friday night.

The end-over-ender from an angle to the left ruined the Tigers bid for one of the biggest upsets of the season and almost eliminated them from a chance at the district championship.

Coach Charlie Brown's Bengals, who are 3-2 in loop play, hope for a shot at the title with some help from Bossier City, a team that has won only one contest against five circuit defeats.

The Knights are now 4-1-1, on top in the district for the first time since the third week of the season, and have only the Bearkats, who lost to West Monroe 13-6 Friday night, left on their schedule. Overall, Woodlawn is 7-1-1 while the loss evened Neville's mark at 4-4.

Byrd boosted the Crusaders to first place by upsetting Ouachita 20-14 and sending the Lions into second with a 4-2 loop slate. The loss dropped Neville, which entered the game in second place, into a three-way tie for third with Fair Park and the Rebels.

Woodlawn held a 6-0 halftime lead after a third deep penetration ended in paydirt. The Knights quarterback Terry Bradshaw hit end Tommy Spinks from seven yards out for the touchdown with 3:27 left in the first half.

After intermission, Neville caught up on a 72-yard punt return by Lennie Heimgartner with 9:17 left in the third period. Monty Moncrief put the Tigers ahead with his extra point kick. The ball rocked back and forth nine times before Evans won the game on his field goal.

Actually, the Knights' touchdown was just about expected after two drives had stalled inside Neville's 20.

The first penetration reached as far as the three but on a first and goal situation, David Hochsteller, who had the biggest defensive job of the night — covering Spinks — fell on a Bradshaw fumble.

Woodlawn's other drive ended when Evans unsuccessfully tried a 29-yard field goal from the 19-yard line. Woodlawn had gone from the Tigers' 36, with a 21-yard Bradshaw to Spinks aerial on which the Knights' all-district candidate made just one of his great catches, to place the ball on the 13.

The Tigers really never put together a long scoring drive, reaching Woodlawn territory only once other than the touchdown punt return, that being early in the final period.

After taking over on its own 20 following Bradshaw's punt into the endzone, Neville moved to the Knights' 38 yard line only to end up punting. After moving to its 32, Fred Amman ran the longest rushing play from scrimmage by bursting up the middle for 26 yards to Woodlawn's 42.

Two plays later, the Tigers scored when Monty Moncrief came out of no where to hit gold dust from 39 yards out. But the Bengals were too eager on the play, jumping off-sides, and the touchdown that would have eventually won the game, was called back.

Later in the period, Woodlawn took over at its own 35 and swiftly moved to the Tigers' 19 in only five plays. On a second and 10 play at the 35, Bradshaw pitched a screen pass to halfback Tom Hagin good for 19 yards and fullback Bobby Brown followed with successive runs of 16 and 11, taking the ball to the 19.

Brown then took the ball again, picking up five yards, but the Tigers hit him hard, causing a fumble, and Steve Smith fell on the ball at the 14 with three minutes to go.

Neville needed only to start a short drive to run out the clock, but three plays netted nine yards and the Tigers punted from the 23.

After taking in the boot, Woodlawn set up operations on Neville's 48 with only 1:12 to go in the game. On the first play from here, Bradshaw found Spinks wide open and hit him for a 33 yard gain to the Tiger 15 yard line.

Bradshaw then followed up with an eight yarder to Spinks, who made a diving catch, taking the ball to the seven. But two passes fell incomplete, for-

NEVILLE QUARTERBACK Doug Cookston is stopped as he tries to sweep right end in the first quarter by Woodlawn's Randy Stephens for a two yard gain Friday night. Neville was beaten, 9-7.

The Knights outgained Neville in total yardage 242 to 107. 142 yards of that total came in the air, with Bradshaw completing 10 of 20 passes. Spinks was again Bradshaw's favorite receiver, on the receiving end of seven for an 89 yard total. Spinks was the target on nine of the tosses that fell incomplete.

Rebels In 3-Way Tie For Third

By JIM MATHIS
World Sports Writer

BOSSIER CITY — The West Monroe Rebels scored two first half touchdowns and hung on to take a 13-6 district 1-AAA grid decision over the Bossier Bearkats Friday night before a crowd of about 2,000.

The win boosted the Rebs to a 2-1-2 loop mark and a tie for third with Neville and Fair Park, which have 3-2 records in the league.

The Rebels set the complexion of the game when they recovered their own opening kick-off at the Bearkat 42 yard line.

West Monroe used just six plays and a little over two minutes to take advantage of the break with a touchdown.

Quarterback Ronnie Wiggins threw two passes to split-end Randy Russell that netted 24 yards and fullback Richard Ware collected 22 yards on two carries to highlight the Rebel drive.

Ware crossed the end zone stripe on an off tackle play from one yard out with 9:52 left to play in the opening stanza.

Wiggins' kick for the extra point was wide but the Rebels jumped off to a 6-0 lead.

West Monroe dominated first period play, running 16 plays while the Bearkats had the ball for only seven plays.

The Rebels scored their second and last touchdown of the night in the second quarter when a 28-yard drive was capped by a six yard scoring strike from Wiggins to Russell who fought his way over the goal line with no less than three Bearkats on his back.

Wiggins added the extra point with a kick and the Rebels led 13 - 0 with 5:50 left to play in the first half.

The remainder of the first half was scoreless but the Bearkats returned after intermission to dominate the second half action.

Bossier refused to be denied a touchdown and in the final frame, halfback James Smith tallied on a 24-yard burst up the Rebels' middle.

The extra point attempt failed and the score with 5:25 left to play stood at 13-6; exactly as it would after the final whistle.

Bearkat quarterback Kenny Kruihof kept the game in doubt until the last with his pinpoint passes.

Kruihof, a 146-pound senior, finished the game with a fantastic passing mark.

The Bossier signal caller completed 20 of 28 attempts for a total of 200 yards.

The Rebel defensive unit managed to reach the passer on several occasions.

Wiggins, the Rebel field general, completed 5 of 10 pass attempts for a total of 98 yards.

Ware led the West Monroe rushers with 80 yards, which was all but five of the Rebel rushing yardage.

Smith was the leader in the Bearkats rushing department with a total of 51 yards.

Northeast To Invade Rugged Bulldog Squad

Coach Dixie White sends his scrappy band of Indians to battle a pack of Bulldogs tonight invading McNaspy Stadium on the University of Southwestern campus at Lafayette.

Gametime for the Gulf States Conference showdown is 7:30 p.m. with Ragin' Cajuns opening a three date home stand that will close out the season against McNeese.

USL officials are expecting a close to capacity crowd of 12,000 for the tilt mainly because the Bulldogs are in the thick of the conference race.

The south Louisiana Bulldogs are the first of two teams that go by the same nickname the Tribe has remaining on its schedule.

Next week the Indians sit out an open date and then meet Louisiana Tech's pack of Bulldogs.

Northeast is out of the running for the championship but could wreck USL's hopes with an upset victory. Northeast has yet to win a league contest this year but has given all its GSC opponents a scare. Dixie White's Indians lost to Northwestern by five points, 17 - 12, and to McNeese and Southeastern — two unbeaten league leaders — by eight points each in a pair of 14-6 decisions.

The Indians have a respected defense led by linebacker Wayne Cunningham and a couple of pretty good passers in freshmen quarterbacks Steve Mansur and Allen Bozeman. Northeast, primarily a rushing team for the past several years, have done an about face in its last two games, passing more often than running.

Mansur has completed 24 of 66 passes for 289 yards and Bozeman has thrown 30 times for 12 connections and 235 yards.

Southwestern has a couple of excellent quarterbacks of its own in Bill Bayard and O'Neal Weber. Bayard has accounted for 473 yards and Weber for 417. Bayard is the better runner of the two, gaining 314 yards on the ground while Weber is the best passer, throwing for 383 yards.

USL has a speedy receiver in sprinter Leonard Kleimpter, who has caught only seven passes but averaged 34 yards a catch.

The game will be USL's first at home since Sept. 18 when it opened the season by defeating Louisiana College in Lafayette. The Bulldogs also took decisions over Louisiana Tech, Howard and Lamar Tech while falling before Southeastern and Tampa. Remaining on the schedule after this week are Northwestern and McNeese at home and Chattanooga on the road.

Northeast will have only one game remaining after Saturday, a Nov. 20 date with Louisiana Tech at Ruston. The Indians are 1-6 with a victory over Southeast Missouri and losses to Delta State, Northwestern, Louisiana College, McNeese, Southeastern and East Carolina.

sprained right knee. A tight one with the edge to Green Bay.

Minnesota 38, Los Angeles 21 — Vikings coming on with the running of Bill Brown and Tom Mason complementing Fran Tarkenton's passing. Minnesota defense also appears improved.

The Rams gain yards but too often fumble it away.

St. Louis 28, Pittsburgh 21 — The Cardinals have lost two in a row and the Steelers have won two in a row but the Steelers may be moving up a step in class here. Give Charley Johnson the edge over Bill Nelson.

Washington 24, New York 21 — The biggest item in the Redskins' favor may be a thigh injury to Giants' Tucker Fredericksen. Sonny Jurgensen seems to be coming on for Washington.

San Francisco 35, Dallas 21 — The 49ers may have to go with George Mira instead of John Brodie, who has a slight shoulder separation, but he completed five of seven passes after taking over last week. Cowboys on five-game losing streak.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Buffalo 28, Boston 24 — A close one. These arch-rivals always make it a battle but Eastern Division leading Bills have had another week to break in their new receiving corps. The Patriots still haven't been able to find a running attack that would take the load off Babe Parilli.

San Diego 35, Denver 7 — Chargers' Paul Lowe, No. 1 in rushing, will show Bronco's Cookie Gilchrist, No. 2 in rushing, how it's done. San Diego should be smarting from its first loss to Boston last week and that usually spells trouble receiver Terry Barr with a for the opposition.

Super Dud
Slips Some

Super Dud slipped a little last week, but it wasn't a major fall. His ideas, including a few guesses, caused the percentages to drop — but not a great deal.

With 11 and 22 wrong and right in that order we tip the scales for the week at an uneasy 667 which put the skids on last week's season total rating of 742 and left the mark at 705 with 146 correct and 61 mistakes and seven ties for the year.

We proceed to the selections for the week firmly welded to the hope that Super Dud won't slip a little more on people like Tulane, and Texas, Florida and Purdue, just to name a few.

GULF STATES CONFERENCE: Southeastern 19, North-east 0 — Bulldogs still in thick of fight for championship. La. Tech 24, Southeastern 10 — Lions' homecoming proves to be dismal affair as SLC suffers first of two straight league losses. McNeese 15, Northwestern 9 — Cowboys stay unbeaten in loop action.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE: LSU 10, Alabama 7 — This is one time it'll take an upset for the Tigers to win. Miss. State 20, Auburn 14 — No reason except State lost last week and Auburn won and everybody knows this is a crazy season. Florida 23, Georgia 16 — It's strictly a tossup, and that's what we did, with a coin. Georgia Tech 21, Tennessee 13 — Simply because we know the name of Tech's quarterback and don't know the Vols, and that must mean Kim King plays a pretty big part in his team's success. Kentucky 28, Vanderbilt 15 — Actually that's too many points for this game, but Christmas isn't too far away and we want to get used to "giving." Houston 14, Ole Miss. 13 — Caught you off balance didn't we. Yep, Rebs are three touchdowns favorite, but why not live dangerously once in a while. Stanford 7, Tulane 3 — We've missed the Greensies about three weeks in a row, let's try for four.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE: Arkansas 17, Rice 7 — Wouldn't it be funny if, now that couldn't happen could it? Texas A&M 13, SMU 9 — Chalk up another upset, please. Texas 20, Baylor 15 — Royal finally admits he's no genius (and UT fans believe him) but it shouldn't take a genius to whip the Bears. Texas Tech 36, New Mexico State 7 — A Saturday night romp for Donny and his Raiders.

OTHERS: Southern Mississippi 27, Chattanooga 6; Florida State 9, Wake Forest 7; Notre Dame 37, Pitt 3; Nebraska 29, Kansas 14; Michigan State 34, Iowa 7; Minnesota 18, Northwestern 7; Missouri 19, Colorado 5; Ohio State 21, Indiana 15; Oklahoma 7, Iowa State 9; Penn State 49, Kent State 9; Princeton 32, Harvard 13; Purdue 29, Wisconsin 14; Syracuse 23, Oregon State 10; Tulsa 27, Louisville 6; UCLA 19, Washington 16; Virginia Tech 13, West Virginia 7; Lamar Tech 31, Trinity 19.

FAR-TRAVELED Wally Taber, the sportsman adventurer who makes a personal appearance here tonight at Neville High auditorium, poses here with his wife and son with a leopard taken in Tanganyika, Africa. Taber, sponsored by the Ouachita Wildlife Unit, will present two full-length color movies, one of a Congo safari, newsworthy in that the Congo now is out-of-bounds to photographers and hunters, and the other of a trek along the Alaskan highway and the wilderness country. Doors open at 7 p.m. Show starts at 8.

Hunter Says Camera
Offers Much Danger

The photographer of big game faces many more dangers than the rifleman or hunter, according to big game hunter and photographer Wallace Taber, who will appear at Neville auditorium today.

Writing in a recent issue of the American Rifleman magazine, the globe-trotting Texan cited many instances of photographers in Africa who were stepped on, kicked over, run through, butted, skewered, skragged and not a few who were killed in their efforts to photograph wildlife.

"Danger is a relative proposition," Taber said. "It is a non-geometrical proportion between closeness of animal and temperament of beast plus his size and your determination. To get good photographs," Taber confessed, "one must get close and be downright determined — far more so than with a rifle."

When Taber appears here under auspices of the Ouachita Wildlife Unit, he will screen his latest living - color, double-feature program featuring both Africa and the Yukon. Showtime is 8 p.m. at the Neville auditorium.

In one film, the cameraman features his latest Congo safari and life among the world's smallest people — Ituri Forest pygmies. In the other film, "Road to Romance," the far-traveled former newsman takes his audience on a hunting and fishing trip up the Alaskan highway.

Barr Injured;
Replaced For Battle At LA

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions placed flankerback Terry Barr on the injured reserve list Friday to make room for rookie halfback Bob Felts, acquired on waivers from Baltimore.

Coach Harry Gilmer said Barr's right knee, sprained in the game with Los Angeles Sunday, would require about four weeks to heal.

Under National Football League rules, Barr may not be removed from the injured roster until Dec. 2 when Detroit meets San Francisco. Pat Studstill will take Barr's place.

Felts will be used on the kickoff and punt teams. He was used sparingly by the Colts this year.

LSU Bengals Try To Recoup
Pigskin Fortunes With 'Bama

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State will try to recoup its football fortunes today when it meets Alabama in a regionally televised game.

Both will be fighting to stay alive in the Southeastern Conference title picture, and both must have help from other teams.

Coach Charlie McClendon doesn't count on sophomore sensation Nelson Stokley to start at quarterback for LSU.

Team physicians will let McClendon know just before the kickoff if Stokley can go. He twisted a knee in the Tigers' 23-0 loss last week to Mississippi.

Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant will be at full speed in his backfield with the tandem offense of quarterback Steve Sloan and fullback Steve Bowman. Alabama takes a 4-1-1 conference record into the match and is 5-1-1 over-all. LSU is 1-2 in the league and 5-2 for the season.

For Alabama to win a second straight SEC crown, the Tide must whip LSU and Auburn in its remaining conference outings and hope that Georgia—the only SEC team to beat the Tide —falls this week to Florida or next week to Auburn.

LSU can share the title if it defeats Alabama* and then whips Mississippi State and Tulane in its remaining games, provided Georgia, which has only one conference loss, falls to either the Gators or the Plainsmen. No team has ever won the SEC crown with two defeats.

College Grid Big Three
Fear Only Complacency

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College football's Big Three — Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska — probably have nothing to fear today but complacency.

The three powerhouses, with a combined record of 21-0, face rivals who have won five games and lost 15. It's a case of everything to gain, nothing to lose for the underdogs.

And for the Spartans, Razorbacks and Cornhuskers the stakes are high — national prestige, conference titles, post-season bowls.

An interesting set-up for a surprise or two in this season of surprises.

Top-ranked Michigan State plays at Iowa, where reports are circulating that Coach Jerry Burns is on the way out. If the Spartans win as expected against the Hawkeyes, who are 1-6, only Indiana stands in the way of Michigan State's first Big Ten title.

Arkansas, No. 2 in the nation, is at Rice, 2-4. The tough Razorbacks then will have two more Southwest Conference rivals to tackle in their drive for another championship, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech. Tech, now second in the conference and rated Arkansas' sternest test, entertains New Mexico State today. They're each 6-1.

Third-ranked Nebraska is at home against Kansas, 2-5, and finishes its Big Eight season against two other losing teams, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma. Missouri, which gave Nebraska a battle last week before losing 16-14, has a key road game against the conference's other contender, Colorado.

The annual Southeastern scramble will get a bit unscrambled with five contenders in action. Auburn, 2-0-1 in the conference, meets Mississippi State at Jackson, Miss.; Georgia, 3-1, faces Florida, 2-2, at Jacksonville; Alabama, 4-1-1, is at Louisiana State; and Kentucky, 2-2, has a night game at Vanderbilt.

Still another SEC challenger, Tennessee, is at home to an ex-conference member, seventh-ranked Georgia Tech.

Southern California, pacesetter in the Pacific Atlantic Conference — but with UCLA and Washington State still in the running — plays at California. Washington is at UCLA and Oregon at Washington State in other big PAC games.

The Ivy League's two all-winning club, Princeton and Dartmouth, are solidly favored as they march toward their season-end showdown Nov. 20. Princeton, with its string of 16 victories, is at Harvard and Dartmouth, 6-0 this year, plays Columbia in New York.

First-place Clemson is at North Carolina and second-place Duke plays at North Carolina State in Atlantic Coast highlights. Front-runners Louisville and Tulsa of the Missouri Valley tangle at Tulsa. Miami of Ohio seeks to protect its Mid-American lead at home against Toledo. West Virginia entertains Virginia Tech in the Southern Conference, and Wyoming is at New Mexico in the Western Athletic.

In the East — Notre Dame takes its high-powered team to Pittsburgh for a match against the kitty-cat Panthers; Syracuse, with flashy Floyd Little, is at home for Oregon State, and Maryland is at Navy.

And in intersectional events, Army and Air Force battle at Chicago, unbeaten Utah State plays at Memphis State and Stanford is at Tulane.

District Title
To Richardson;
Lincoln Beaten

The Richardson Bears of West Monroe defeated Lincoln of Ruston, 38-0, Friday night to clinch their district one, zone four, double-A championship, first football title ever to be won by Coach Elvin Spears' Bears.

It was the ninth victory of the season for the undefeated Bears who had claimed a forfeit a week ago from Lincoln. But the Louisiana Interscholastic Athletic and Literary Organization denied the forfeit and ordered the game played last night.

Donell Newton, Melvin Slack, Alvin Richardson, Burnell Dumas, Clarence Marshall and Lutellis Belt figured in the Richardson scoring with Newton getting the first and last touchdowns on short bursts, the opener for three yards and the last for six over tackle.

In between, Slack went off tackle from the two in the first quarter; Richardson circled end for 28, and Marshall passed to Dumas from the 30 in the second period to earn a 25-0 halftime lead.

Marshall rolled out around end for 20 yards and a third quarter TD. Slack got the conversion point after Richardson's score, and Belt converted after the last TD.

Richardson, which has lost only one game in two seasons, appears in its first playoff game in West Monroe on November 19 against the winner of a Bankie-Ferriday meeting.

Northeast defeated McNeese at Forsythe Park in Monroe in the Indians' season opener last month by a lopsided 16 to 49 score. Price also finished first in that meet.

Fixing Charge
Still Unproven

MONTREAL (AP) — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell said Friday that taping charges lodged by the Montreal Canadiens against the Toronto Maple Leafs had not been proven by his investigation.

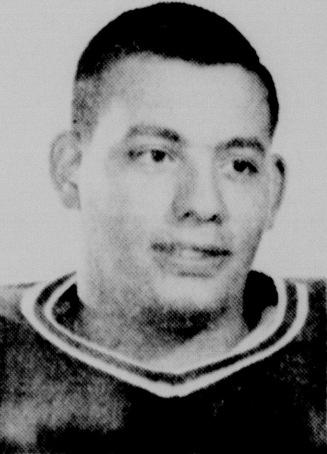

The Canadiens complained the Toronto had approached former Montreal star Bernie Geoffrion three times, offering him a five-year contract at $35,000 per year to come out of retirement. Geoffrion, who coaches the Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League, quit 18 months ago after 13 seasons with the Canadiens.

"There is no dispute that he talked with Toronto club officers on three different occasions," Campbell said. "But that is about the only point of agreement between the witnesses."

Olympic Site Set For Sure

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The 1968 Olympics will be held in Mexico and cannot be moved, the Mexican Olympic Committee said Friday in answer to a Norwegian doctor who urged a change because of the altitude.

Dr. Hans Jacob Nerdrum had said Mexico City's 1½-mile high altitude would be harmful to athletes, and the site of the 1968 games should be changed.

Several foreign doctors who were here during the recent Little Olympics said the altitude was not damaging to athletes if they trained in advance.

A meeting of the streaks at Chicago and rematches at Green Bay and Cleveland provided key action in the National Football League Sunday.

In the American League, division leaders San Diego and Buffalo will try to bounce back after upset losses. The Baltimore Colts, winners of five in a row and co-leader in the NFL Western Division, tackle the resurgent Bears at Chicago. After losing their first three, the Bears have swept to four straight victories and projected themselves into the crowded title picture.

Green Bay's Packers, toppled by Chicago last week for their first loss, play a return engagement against Detroit. The Packers overcame the Lions 31-21 three weeks ago after trailing 21-3 at the half.

Baltimore and Green Bay top the West at 6-1, with Chicago, Detroit and Minnesota's Vikings next at 4-3. The Vikings are at home to the last-place Los Angeles Rams, 1-6.

In the East, Cleveland's pacesetter Browns take on the Philadelphia Eagle team they beat 35-7 earlier in the season. The Browns, 5-2 after a 27-17 setback by Minnesota last week, are just a step ahead of the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals, both 4-3.

The Giant, a surprising success this year with a rebuilt team, take on the Washington Redskins at New York. The Redskins also are beginning to move, with victories in their last two games after five losses in a row.

The Cardinals, who play at home against the Pittsburgh Steelers, have gone the other way, bowing to Washington and New York the past two Sundays.

The San Francisco 49ers meet the Cowboys at Dallas in the other NFL game.

San Diego's powerful Chargers proved themselves anything but invincible in recent weeks against — of all people — the Boston Patriots. The Patriots, then with an 0-6 record, tied San Diego 13-13 two weeks ago and beat the Chargers 22-6 last Sunday.

San Diego has a 1½-game lead in the AFL's Western Division with its 5-1-2 record. The Oakland Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs are next at 4-3-1.

Oakland tangles with the Oilers at Houston Sunday, while the Chiefs play at home against the New York Jets.

The Buffalo Bills, who have split their last four games after a 4-0 start, go against the Patriots at Boston. Buffalo's lead in the East is 1½ games over Houston, which took a major step up last week in a 19-17 decision over the Bills.

All four AFL games are rematches. In earlier meetings, San Diego edged Denver, Oakland beat Houston, Kansas City downed New York and Buffalo trounced Boston.

ANY QUESTIONS?
Q: My bedroom is cold and bare looking. It has Early American furniture and light beige walls. What color for curtains, rugs, accessories and a coverlet. I just made a dust ruffle from unbleached muslin. Should I dye it. What about orange?
A: To bring brightness to room, concentrate on yellow. Dye ruffles this color and use it for scatter rugs and accent. For coverlet and windows, find a cheerful floral in beige with white and bright yellow.

Noland Home Scene Of Music Guild Meeting

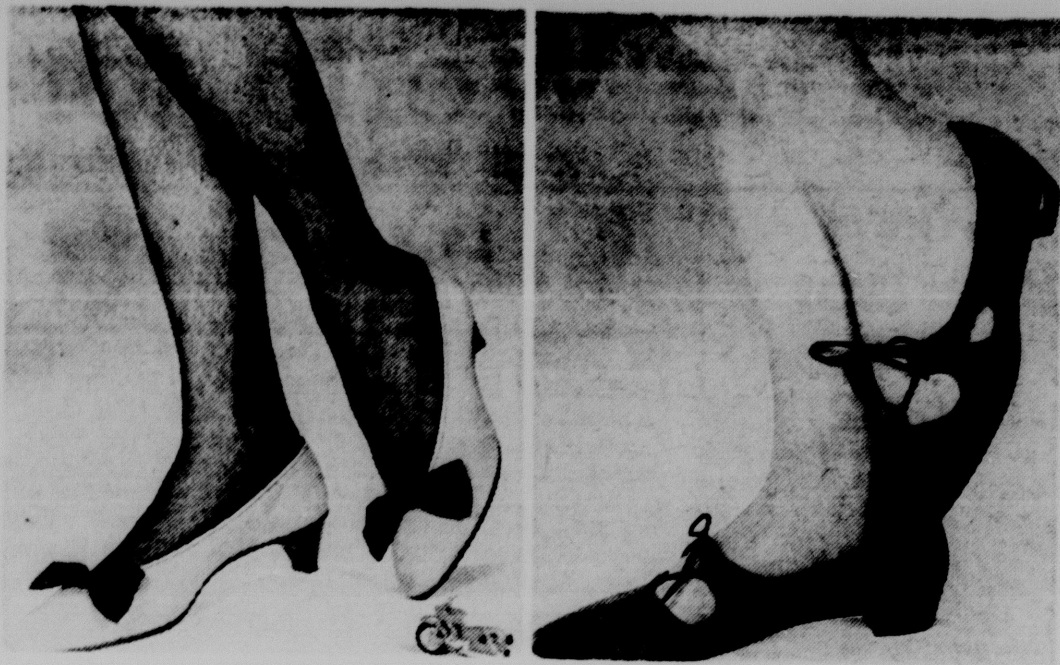

Mrs. Leon Noland entertained the Music Guild in her home Wednesday, November 3. The art songs, The melody "Frau-able was decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums and leaves in fall colors. Mrs. Marvin Shipp and Mrs. Thelma Oseland assisted Mrs. Noland with the courtesies for the meeting.

The program opened with the hymn of the month "Come Ye Faithful People, Come" sung by Mrs. J. Norman Coon.

Mrs. R. L. Morgan gave the text on Robert Schumann. Mr. Schumann, she said, revealed a stubborn nature in all his works by the use of one theme throughout his compositions. Mrs. Tommy Spurlock performed "Arabesque" on the piano as an example of this.

Mrs. Allen Coon sang "Thou Art So Like A Flower", accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, one of Schumann's famous art songs. The melody "Frau-able" was played by Mrs. Earl Ogg. The composer's determination to be original was brought out in "Phantasiestücke" played by Mrs. N. W. Hickman. As a final Mrs. Bill Reed sang "Lotus Flower" showing that Robert Schumann was also a great poet.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, a guest; Mrs. Noland, Mrs. Shipp, Mrs. Oseland, Mrs. Spurlock, Mrs. J. N. Coon, Mrs. Allen Coon, Mrs. Ogg, Mrs. Hickman, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Davis Bingham, Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. J. E. Hislop, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Jack Kimball, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Marvin Smith and Mrs. James Perkins.

THE COED, at left, making careful preparations for the date that rates must have this elegant straight-side pump. A V-throat set off by a perky peau de sole bow takes to all the fun and excitement of lively action. At right is a gay little ghillie that takes the floor and keeps the beat. It's a fun design of black lacing through a trio of loops and contrasting cable stitching. Ready for casual wear and set for a comfortable fit.

Fall Lingerie Is Alluring

For the first time since the twenties slips have an exciting fashion story of their own, a story of silhouette, fabric and color.

The silhouette may be summed up in the phrase "the fluid look", the color is a flesh tone which reflects the nude look. The fabric, fittingly enough in this fashion period of a return to the thirties is crepe.

Crepe in two luscious new fabrics. One is a delightfully sheer, 20 denier fabric with a silk-like hand. It is an ideal daywear fabric to be worn under lined dresses and double knit fashions which do not require a heavy slip. The other is an opaque, sensuously rich, satin black crepe tricot — both made with a new yarn called Enka Crepeset nylon.

It has the crepe pebbling built right into the yarn itself and the crepe pebbling cannot be washed out of the fabric. Luxurious in hand and appearance, the fabric combines the richness and beauty of traditional crepe and the easy care qualities of nylon.

Begin with the demi-tasse slip, a new length that just covers the stocking top. The bodice is cut in the new softer bra fit, with a low plunge. The skirt is slit at the sides, and all edges are delicately scalloped. This new kind of fluidly cut, chemise slip is meant for wear under lined dresses and costumes with the new above-knee hemlines. It's perfect for knits. It comes in an exciting new color called "My Skin".

Similar in length, but with a deeply lace-bordered hem and a lace-trimmed bandeau-cut bodice is Caressa, soft and slender, a perfect suit slip. When skirts are lined, as they so often are today, the sheeress makes the slip welcome to the skin.

The brief slips are sometimes called "disco slips," after the brief and flirty dance dresses that have been given the name of discotheque dresses. Discotheques are dance spots which use recorded music, and they have inspired a multitude of young and swiny fashions.

Under one of these supple little dresses, with their above-knee hemlines, the slip-shape is princess, with a wider hemline flare perfect for active dancing. The softly molded bodice and hemline are deep in lace, the fitted torso is accented with strips of French lace beaded with nylon ribbon.

DEAR ABBY

Snoring Noise Means Husband Right By You

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'll never forget the first night of my honeymoon. My darling fell fast asleep at midnight while I was awake until seven o'clock the next morning just listening to him snore. He started out by holding his breath for so long I didn't know whether to send for a doctor or a priest. Then he'd exhale ever so slowly, emitting a long whistle, popping his lips and finally terminating with a noise that sounded like a corps of pneumatic drills. I felt like kicking him right through the wall every night.

After the honeymoon we got twin beds. That didn't solve anything. It just made it harder for me to kick him. Finally, we had separate bedrooms, but I could hear him through the walls. Then a friend introduced me to the greatest invention since sliced bread. EAR PLUGS! They have saved my marriage, and I am not kidding.

DEAR ABBY: On our honeymoon I was horrified to discover that I had married the world's champion snorer. I used elbows and feet for temporary relief. Now we sleep in twin beds and I keep a yardstick under my bed. When Michael starts snoring, I get the yardstick and whack him with it. Now, as soon as he hears me reaching for the yardstick, he shuts up.

MICHAEL'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: Let's face it. Most people nowadays sleep together before marriage, so if they marry a snorer it's hardly news to them. Anyone who knowingly marries a snorer and then has the gall to complain about it should have his nose ripped off. Thank you.

ST. LOUIS

DEAR ABBY: Yes, hubby snores. I just move to another room. What hurts me most is to leave HIM the electric blanket. But I'm going to change all that. I'm getting another one. (Blanket, not husband.)

Fringed Shirts Are A Teenage Delight

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Know those Oxford cloth shirts which all of us teen-agers wear — that Mother never likes to iron because they are so difficult?

Well, when the sleeves get too short, instead of throwing away the expensive shirt, just cut them off near the elbow and RAVEL the bottoms of the sleeves about an inch or so.

They look darling and can be worn with so many things this way.

After they are washed, they look even cuter as the fringe curls a bit.

Miss Coleman

Dear Heloise: I bought a lovely antique pewter sugar and creamer and would appreciate knowing the best method for cleaning them. Can you suggest something?

Virginia Holmes

Dear Virginia: I use paste-type silver polish to clean my pewter.

Just dip a sponge in the polish, apply it as you would to silver, then polish it with a dry cloth. Always polish around the article, not up and down.

Between polishings, just wash it in warm detergent water, rinse, then dry with a soft cloth or a chamois.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: The greatest column you ever wrote was the one telling women to put a facial tissue (folded in half) in their shoes before putting them on especially if they did not wear stockings.

This not only absorbs the perspiration but gives longer life to the shoes, since perspiration rots leather.

Being a podiatrist, I now recommend this to all my patients, ESPECIALLY the men who wear black socks.

I tell the gentlemen to open two facial tissues for each foot and place one on top of the other, set their feet on them, wrap the tissues around their feet, and then pull on their black socks.

My patients now say that they can stand on their feet longer each day without their feet becoming tired. It has helped many who had complications . . .

Your method was so simple that I am shocked we doctors never thought about it before, for helping those with foot problems.

Podiatry Doctor

Dear Heloise: Most women have trouble pressing the edges of a piece of bias facing on a garment. Even when you baste it in, it is hard to stitch down.

I always spray my bias tape with good old spray starch before even trying to baste or sew it down.

If you come to a portion that does not work perfectly, you can always spray a little more starch on it, rub it with your finger, and it fits like it was made for the article.

Mrs. N.

Dear Heloise: Those of us who have hood-type hairdryers know what a problem some of them can be, when putting them on or taking them off. Rollers get displaced or fall off when the hair is dry, strands of hair come loose, and pin curls come undone.

I've remedied this with a strip of your wonderful nylon net. I dug up an old slip and cut off a row of the ruffled net.

Immediately after setting my hair, I wrap this net around my hair twice before using the dryer.

Result: no loose curls and a happy me.

Laura

Dear Heloise: For those who have school lunches to make . . .

At night I peel an orange, section it and place it in a plastic bag in the freezer.

In the morning I place the frozen orange underneath the sandwiches.

It helps keep the sandwiches cool, and by noon the orange is thawed but is still good and cold.

Republicans In West Attacking Viet Nam Policy

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Western Republicans, cautiously exploring the prospects of holding together Goldwater conservatives, Nixon moderates and Lindsay liberals, zeroed in on 1966 Friday with an attack on current Viet Nam policy.

A panel of GOP lawmakers told the Western States Republican Conference the United States ought to bomb or blockade North Viet Nam ports. President Johnson ought to let the military fight the war and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara ought to resign.

Addresses by Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon, the 1964 and 1960 Republican presidential candidates, were featured at the two-day conference. John V. Landsay, the liberal congressman who repudiated Goldwater in 1964 and was elected mayor of New York Tuesday, was prominent in private — but not public — conversation.

Nixon was to address the group at a 9 p.m. (EST) banquet. Goldwater was scheduled to wind up the conference with a luncheon address today.

Tests On Soil At Courthouse Here Completed

Soil formation tests on the grounds of the Ouachita Parish Courthouse have been completed as part of preparations for enlarging the facility next year.

Eustis Engineering Company of New Orleans performed the tests "for the express purpose of being sure that footings and foundations will seat properly."

Four-story additions are planned at the north and south ends of the courthouse as part of a $1.7 million bond issue program approved by parish voters in September. Improvements on the interior of the existing structure are also planned.

No date has been set for construction, since bonds to finance the work have to be sold.

Bliss told the 500 delegates Friday the GOP must root out extremists of any stripe. He called Robert Welch, head of the John Birch Society, an "irresponsible radical."

Sen. Peter H. Dominick of Colorado and Representatives Bob Wilson of California and John Rhodes of Arizona told a panel Johnson and McNamara had "shattered morale in the Pentagon and in the field" by overcontrolling and overriding the military in the Viet Nam war.

Royalty Has Problems In New World

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Britain's Princess Margaret found out Friday that royalty has its problems even in the new world.

"We'd really love to ride on a cable car," she told San Francisco Mayor John Shelley. "But it doesn't look as if our security men will let us."

The princess, sparkling in a silver and white dress and coat and a big black mink hat, received the keys to the city of San Francisco at the mayor's office in City Hall.

The mayor gave her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, a miniature silver cable car.

And Lord Snowdon voiced a complaint similar to his wife's about riding the cable cars which roll up and down the steep hills of San Francisco.

Shortly after they voiced their disappointments, however, the British consul-general's office announced a revised afternoon schedule for the royal couple that included a short ride on a cable car to Aquatic Park.

The 5-foot-1 princess looked like a little girl beside 6-foot-4 Mayor Shelley as she walked up the City Hall steps, amid applause from spectators straining against ropes on the steps and in a park across the street.

"Isn't she a doll?" someone shouted.

"Wow!" was another verdict. Nearly 1,000 persons filled the steps and the City Hall rotunda, craning to get a glimpse of the royal party. Some lined second-story balconies rimming the rotunda.

After the brief ceremony in the mayor's office, the princess accepted the mayor's arm and walked down City Hall's main stairway as 30 white-gloved San Francisco policemen lining the stairs saluted the royal couple.

After, Shelley told newsmen: "She said it was awfully nice to us to come up with this wonderful weather."

It was a sparkling sunny day with temperatures in the 70s.

The princess and her husband later attended a charity luncheon along with 1,700 women guests at the Hilton Hotel.

Earlier, the English-Speaking Union caused a flap when they sent out notices that all women attending were required to wear hats in the royal presence.

A British official, Donald Stokes, cleared the matter, telling newsmen: "Nobody cares who wears what. The ladies can wear a hat or a wig or anything they choose."

Natchez Merchants Fail To Get Support

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A plan to break a civil rights boycott by forcing Negroes off their jobs failed to win quick Chamber of Commerce endorsement Friday.

"We must not make a hasty decision," said Kenneth Youngblood, chamber president. "The matter will be taken under consideration at a board meeting Tuesday."

The retail merchants section of the chamber wants to mount an all-out campaign to have Negroes laid off from work unless the boycott ends by next Wednesday.

The unprecedented effectiveness of the boycott to back civil rights demands has created an uneasy stir in business circles over Mississippi — and much of the South.

The economic freeze, concentrated on downtown stores, was triggered by the booby-trap bombing of a Negro leader's car two months ago.

Sales loss to individual merchants is roughly equal to the amount of Negro trade they had before the freeze — in some instances more than 50 per cent, in many cases about 35 per cent.

This historic Mississippi River city, a Ku Klux Klan stronghold, has about 12,000 white residents and about 11,000 Negroes.

Mayor John Nossner, a white-haired figure whose speech still carries accents of his native Lebanon, told Friday's special Chamber of Commerce meeting that outside Negro leaders want to make Natchez an example of what economic pressure can do.

"Then they can go to Clarksdale, Laurel, Shreveport, La., or Atlanta, Ga., and say, 'If you don't do what we want you to do, even if it is against the law, we are going to do to you what we did to Natchez.'"

Nossner then recommended that a decision on the counter-boycott be delayed pending a conference with Negro leaders, which he said will be held Tuesday.

The delay did not please some of the 175 merchants who plodded through the rain for the session at a downtown hotel ballroom.

However, Donald Byrne, a furniture dealer who presided, cut off the move to take a vote on how many merchants wanted an immediate decision.

"The chamber has explained its position," he said. "We have accomplished our purpose in letting our views be known. This meeting is adjourned; I resign from the chair."

In elaborating, the merchant

Former Sheriff Convicted For False Returns

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Former Harrison County Sheriff Curtis Dedeaux was convicted Friday on three counts of filing false information on his tax returns, but was found innocent on three counts of income tax evasion.

The verdict ended a trial which U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox said was the longest case he has ever heard since he has been on the bench.

Dedeaux, who was charged with violations during the years 1960, 1961, and 1962, while he was sheriff, faces maximum penalties of three years imprisonment and $5,000 fine on each of the three counts for which he was convicted.

Those for which he was acquitted carried maximum penalties of five years and $10,000 on each count.

The counts on which he was acquitted alleged he attempted to evade payment of $84,356 in taxes during the period. The three on which he was found guilty charged that he understated the gross receipts from the office of sheriff for each of the three years.

During the trial, which lasted two weeks, almost 100 witnesses were called to testify and about 300 exhibits were entered as evidence.

The case was turned over to the jury about 6:30 p.m. Thursday and the court was notified that a verdict was reached at 3 p.m. Friday.

Judge Cox deferred sentencing the defendant and set his bond at $10,000 — the same amount that he had been free under prior to the trial.

Barge Lift Meets Indefinite Delay

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The big chlorine barge lift here and elaborate operations to safeguard the public from any possible danger met an indefinite delay Friday as divers struggled with cables underwater.

The Army Corps of Engineers originally planned to raise the barge and its 602-ton deadweight cargo Nov. 1, but delayed the lift until next Nov. 8 because of technical difficulties.

The corps said divers were having trouble strapping large steel cables as slings under the four chlorine tank bellies to lift the barge.

Working conditions barred setting a new target date "with any accuracy," the corps said.

The barge salvage contract is being handled by the J. Ray McDermott Co., New Orleans. Engineers said the underwater work "is a tedious business" and divers were having to use power equipment and smaller ropes and cables to get slings into place.

"As soon as we can get all 32 of these underwater connections made," Dist. Engineer Thomas J. Bowen said, "and we are sure we can be ready by a specified time, we will give Operation Safeguard a 72-hour alert and follow this with another notice 48 hours before we are fully ready to lift the sunken barge."

Gov. John McKeithen told his news conference he expected to remain here with his family when the barge is raised, and "I don't expect the overwhelming mass of people to leave."

He said dangers were possible but remote.

Schiro Faces Fitzmorris For Mayor

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Incumbent Victor Schiro faces Councilman James E. Fitzmorris Jr. today for mayor in a Democratic primary election remarkable for its lack of major issues.

Schiro, 61, is asking for a second four-year term. He is opposed by Fitzmorris and three lesser known candidates. Newspaper polls showed Schiro and Fitzmorris virtually in a dead heat, with the others far behind.

A runoff primary will be held Dec. 11, if no candidate receives a majority.

No Republican qualified, assured the Democratic nominee of victory in the general election.

Six councilmen, a district attorney, one judge and a number of other posts also will be filled in the primary election.

Between 140,000 and 160,000 persons are expected to vote in this city of 700,000 residents.

Schiro based his campaign on prosperity and growth in the city. He emphasized heavily his experience in city government.

"Why change?" he asked.

Fitzmorris, 43, stressed a "put Leadership in City Hall" theme. He made much of what he called Schiro's failure to heed a 1964 Army Corps of Engineers report recommending hurricane flood control.

"We will provide affirmative leadership to help achieve maximum flood protection for the metropolitan New Orleans area as soon as possible," Fitzmorris said repeatedly.

His message was beamed at voters in the sprawling Ninth Ward—much of which was flooded by Hurricane Betsy in September.

Schiro countered by saying his administration did all that could be done to alert citizens before the hurricane and to rescue them after it struck.

Although thousands of Negroes registered to vote in the weeks preceding the primary election, neither major candidate appeared to count their vote openly. The Congress of Racial Equality declined to endorse either of them.

Others running for mayor are Joseph W. Held, Doris W. Perkins and A. Roswell Thompson.

Next to the mayor's race, the most interest is in that for district attorney, where incumbent Jim Garrison faces City Judge Malcolm V. O'Hara.

Polls open at 6 a.m. (est) and close at 8 p.m.

Aluminum Price Increase Spreads

NEW YORK (AP)—The aluminum price increase spread throughout the industry Friday. The White House took no immediate action.

The boost became general when Aluminum Co. of America, the biggest U.S. aluminum producer, joined in the raise. The boost was initiated a week ago by Olin Mathieson Co.

Alcoa raised its price of basic ingot half a cent a pound to 25 cents a pound and of fabricated metal an average of one cent a pound.

The industry was apprehensive that the action might stir opposition from President Johnson.

When asked about Johnson's reaction, his press secretary, Bill D. Moyers, said at the White House press center in Austin, Tex.,

"I know that the President regrets any action affecting price stability in this country but he has not received any analysis of how action by the aluminum companies affects the wage-price guideposts. I have nothing more on it."

Asked if this was intended as criticism of the industry, Moyers said, "I don't want to put any interpretation on it."

He said in response to another query that he didn't know if Johnson had asked for an analysis but added that the President's Council of Economic Advisors is constantly making studies of that kind.

The administration coincidentally announced plans last weekend to seek more aluminum.

Mental Health Plan Of State Is Approved

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Louisiana construction plan under the federal community mental health centers act of 1963 has been approved by the national institute of mental health, Director R. B. Walden of the state Department of Hospitals said Friday.

The federal act authorized $150 million in federal aid for construction of comprehensive mental health centers over a three-year period.

Louisiana has an allocation of $3,259,423 for 1965 through 1967. Federal funds will provide about 60 per cent of the construction costs.

Walden said his department asked the state Bond and Building Commission for an allocation of $1,800,000 in state funds to be matched by federal funds of $3,350,000.

The total of $5,150,000 will be used for construction of 10 mental health centers and expansion of two hospital facilities for mentally ill children.

Community mental health centers will be built in Monroe, Ruston, Columbia, Lake Charles and Delhi or Tallulah, Bogalusa, Hammond, Houma, Morgan City and Raceland.

The bond and building commission in 1964 allocated $100,000 in state funds for construction of a $250,000 mental health center at Covington.

Walden said he is asking state and federal funds for a 250-bed children's unit for adolescents at the Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville and a similar 50-bed unit for adolescents at the Central Louisiana State Hospital at Pineville. It is estimated that these two projects will cost $3,300,000.

The 3-1 majority ruling held that the code intended "to prohibit a member of a state board or commission from contracting with the board or commission on which he serves."

Geologist Close To Find Pit Full Of Money

OAK ISLAND, N.S. (UPI)—Los Angeles geologist said Friday he is close to finding the legendary "money pit" where the pirate Captain Kidd is said to have hidden a $30 million treasure.

Robert Dunfield said he has discovered a water flood system on the south side of this tiny Nova Scotia island which he believes is hiding the "money pit."

Legend has it that the notorious Kidd, who operated from this pock-marked island off Nova Scotia's south coast in the 17th century, hid the treasure of gold and jewels somewhere on the island. Treasure hunters have searched for it for the past 170 years without success.

Dunfield, 39, believes Kidd dug the flood tunnel through the island to hide the "money pit" by flooding it. There are several such water tunnels through the island and sceptics believe they were naturally formed. But Dunfield holds that the tunnel he found does hid the treasure.

Space Agency Sets Date For 4-Man Launch

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The U.S. space agency, pushing to beat the Christmas holidays, will aim for Dec. 6 to launch the first half of its four-man "Spirit of 76" flight into orbit, it was learned Friday.

Official announcement of the new launching date — a gain of two days on the old blastoff schedule of Dec. 8 — was expected shortly from Washington.

Barring any further hitches in the schedule, astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell would ride the Gemini 7 spacecraft into the skies that day to begin a record 14-day sojourn in orbit.

With continued good luck, the space agency hopes to send fellow astronauts Walter M. Schirra and Thomas P. Stafford into space aboard Gemini 6 to try to chase down Gemini 7 about eight days later.

This would put the liftoff time for Schirra and Stafford, on about Dec. 14 or thereafter.

The goal of the schedule shift, according to sources, is to stay as far ahead of the Christmas holidays as possible. Under a Dec. 6 launching, Borman and Lovell could expect to return to earth around Dec. 20.

Schirra and Stafford are scheduled to land just short of 48 hours after they take off from Cape Kennedy.

Spokesmen for the space agency's Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston declined to comment on the schedule shift report, except to say that "any announcement will come out of Washington."

The launchings will close out America's program of manned space exploration for the year. The next Gemini flight — No. 8 — is not expected until next February or March.

During the historic "space chase," Schirra and Stafford will try to maneuver their ship to within 100 feet, and probably much less, of Gemini 7.

But, officials said, no attempt would be made to actually "dock," or link up, the two capsules.

The Interior Ministry declined to comment on Ortega's arrest. It recently had announced the capture of several persons, identified as Spanish Communists, in connection with a raid on a guerrilla arsenal discovered outside Caracas.

Promote Interest

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A revolutionary idea to promote greater public interest in the legislature by allowing bill introductions throughout the year with interim committee hearings, was suggested Friday.

It is a key recommendation put in a package for the Louisiana Legislative Council which meets here Nov. 12 to examine various ideas.

Director DeVan Daggett of the council wrapped up the recom-

Emergency State Called In Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—The white-ruled British colony of Rhodesia proclaimed a 90-day state of emergency Friday which gives almost unlimited power to police and defense forces to maintain law and order.

A government statement said the emergency declaration was prompted by a threat to national security from African nationalists at home and abroad.

Premier Ian Smith emphatically denied the action was connected with a possible Unilateral Declaration of Independence (UDI) which would retain minority white rule in Rhodesia. There are about 220,000 white settlers to around 4 million blacks here.

(The Cairo headquarters of the Zimbabwe African National Union (ZANU) said the state of emergency was "an open declaration of war" against the 4 million Africans. ZANU, which is banned in Rhodesia, pledged its members will use "every means and seek all possible ways" to achieve independence "even if it means protracted war by Africans against an illegitimate British regime.")

"If we wanted a state of emergency for a UDI, we would call one for UDI," Smith told newsmen.

(The British parliament was put on a stand-by alert in the event Rhodesia did decide to seize independence. The scheduled prorogation of parliament Friday until new parliament was formally opened on Tuesday by Queen Elizabeth had been postponed until Tuesday.

In making the move Thursday, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson ensured Britain would not be caught off guard should Smith declare UDI.)

The emergency declaration came after the third cabinet meeting here in 36 hours. A few hours later, the cabinet met again to approve a draft reply to British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's announcement of reservations on the royal commission designed to settle the dispute over independence.

Smith refused to disclose the contents of the reply before it was received by Wilson in London. He said he could not say when it would be sent because "it still has to be polished."

In announcing the state of emergency, minister of law and order Lardner Burke said it would be effective immediately and remain in force for three months.

A statement said African nationalists at home and abroad — including saboteurs trained in countries hostile to Rhodesia — posed a threat to the security.

"It is the duty of the government to maintain law and order," the statement said. But some political circles said they believed the emergency decree was proclaimed as a precautionary measure in case the royal commission talks break down.

Appeal Filed By River Pilots On Court Ruling

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An appeal has been filed by the Crescent River Port Pilots' association on the decision of Civil Dist. Judge Oliver Carriere to dismiss its suit against Capt. William L. Heuer Jr., it was disclosed Friday.

Heuer, a former president of the pilots group, had been called to court to account for $237,476 in association funds expended during his tenure. The judge dismissed the suit Oct. 14 after saying the association did not come into court "with clean hands."

Heuer testified about using party girls, a secret apartment and large cash payments to legislators and top aides of former Gov. Jimmie Davis to help pass laws favorable to river pilots.

Most of the officials named by Heuer denied receiving any money from the association.

Capt. Richard McNeely, current association president said the appeal was filed Tuesday in Louisiana's 4th Circuit Court of Appeals to "obtain a full and fair hearing of the issues involved."

In a statement released Friday, McNeely said, "There has been a great deal of damage done by Heuer's claim that he went to Baton Rouge during the 2960 session of the legislature and gave money to legislators in order to get them to vote in favor of a bill Heuer claims increased the pilots' income by $800,000 a year."

"Prior to the convening of the Legislature in 1960, the New Orleans Steamship Association had voluntarily offered to the pilots an increase in excess of 85 per cent of the increase ultimately granted by the legislature."

McNeely concluded: "The additional 15 per cent increase (about $90,000) in pilotage fees contained in the bill passed by the legislature was the result of a compromise between pilots and the steamship association."

Ark-La-Miss Briefs

Declared Sane

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Accused rapist Leonard Caesar, who has spent nearly 9 years in a mental institution, was declared sane Friday and ordered held for trial.

Criminal Dist. Judge George Platt accepted the finding of a three-man lunacy commission which unanimously agreed the 44-year-old Negro can now tell right from wrong and can assist in his own defense.

Caesar was accused of raping a white woman in 1956.

Crewmen Rescued

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard reported it rescued four crewmen from a 120-foot workboat which sank Friday in the Gulf of Mexico.

The vessel, Jan H, sank about 65 miles southwest of Grand Isle, La. The cause of the sinking was unknown.

A spokesman for Magnet Cove Barium Corp., which operated the craft, estimated its value at $300,000. The Jan H was used to ferry materials to off-shore oil rigs.

Flying Tackle

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A flying tackle by an alert detective stopped an escape attempt by an 18-year-old Negro prisoner in Criminal District Court here Friday.

Det. Joseph Giardina has downed David L. Clark as the youth fled along a corridor. Clark was sitting in the prisoner's dock waiting for court to open when he leaped to his feet, pushed aside a deputy and ran from the court room.

Clark was in court for a hearing on a motion for a new trial. He was convicted last March, along with two other Negro men, of the aggravated rape of an 18-year-old Negro girl. All three were given life sentences.

Quorum Fails

FRANKLINTON, La. (AP) — The Washington Parish grand jury failed to muster a quorum Friday to hear evidence in the slaying of Negro Deputy Sheriff Oneal Moore.

Eight members of the 12-man jury appeared, with nine needed. It was the second time in three weeks the jury could not provide a quorum.

Charged in the ambush-slaying of the deputy was Ernest R. McElveen, who remains free on bond.

Moore was killed and another Negro deputy, Creed Rogers, was seriously wounded near Varnado June 2.

To Argue Case

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — Attorneys representing 17 men charged in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia last year said Friday they will argue the case before the U.S. Supreme Court next Monday.

H. C. (Mike) Watkins, one of the six defense attorneys, said they were instructed by the court to appear for a hearing on an appeal by the Justice Department against dismissal of indictments against the 17.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox of Jackson ruled the 17 indictments failed to show any crime against federal laws and the felony charges were a matter for state courts to handle.

The Justice Department appealed the cases.

U.S. Governors Take First Hand Look At War

SAIGON (UPI) — Ten U.S. state governors arrived in Viet Nam Friday for a first hand look at the war and to tell American troops their countrymen are behind them.

The governors are from Georgia, Rhode Island, Vermont, Michigan, Iowa, Maine, Montana, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Hawaii. They are representing the National Governor's conference and will stay in Viet Nam for four days.

"We are here to learn and report on the progress of the Vietnamese struggle against Communist aggression," Gov. John Reed of Maine, chairman of the governors' conference, said.

"We also want to pay tribute to the Vietnamese people in their struggle to withstand Communist aggression."

The governors said they all stood behind President Johnson's policy on Viet Nam.

Before leaving Hong Kong, where they spent two days en route to Saigon, Gov. John A. Burns of Hawaii said:

"Americans are aware that in order to retain freedom and hopes for future peace we must, when necessary, use maximum force."

Lodge Meeting Slated Tonight

Members of the West Monroe Chapter No. 93, Royal Arch Masons, will assist the Clarks Chapter of Royal Arch Masons tonight when the Most Excellent Masters Degree is conferred upon a class of candidates.

John W. Adams, high priest of the West Monroe lodge, said Royal Arch Masons have been invited to attend both the first ceremony and the second one in which the Royal Arch Degree will be conferred.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Clarks lodge.

Kennedy Willing To Give Blood To Cong

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To give blood to the North Vietnamese would be "in the oldest traditions of this country," Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Friday.

"I'm willing to give blood to anybody who needs it," he told a news conference.

The senator said he thought that opposition to this country's role in Viet Nam had gone too far in some areas. But he said he was not opposed in principle to giving blood to North Vietnamese.

A newsmen asked Kennedy if he thought sending American blood to North Viet Nam, as favored by some student groups, was going "too far."

"I'd rather concentrate on the South Vietnamese, and those who need it," Kennedy said, "but I'm in favor of giving blood to anyone."

A newsmen asked him if he believed blood should go to the North Vietnamese when they are killing our troops.

"If the Red Cross is making a drive for blood and feels that giving blood to North Viet Nam can be helpful," Kennedy replied. "Any North Vietnamese that are captured are treated and are helped by blood, and helped by assistance. If more of that kind of blood is needed and is needed through an agency like the Red Cross."

He was asked if he favored some student groups' plans to ship American blood directly to North Viet Nam.

"I'm talking about through an organization like the Red Cross," said Kennedy. "If it's a blanket question of would we furnish blood to North Viet Nam, I would furnish it. I think that's in the oldest tradition of this country."
